Record Fall For March Blasts Ohio

West And Central Areas Smacked By Up To 12 Inches

By The Associated Press

Records for a March snowfall were shattered all over a 50-mile path through West - Central Ohio as Buckeyes in that area today began to dig out from the worst snow storm of the winter.

Kenton reported 12 inches on the ground, the village of Lithipolis, south of Columbus, has 11, Columbus reported 9 inches early Tuesday with light snow still falling expected to boost the total to 10. Springfield reported 7 inches.

Although the 50-mile wide path stretching from Columbus to Lima took the brunt of the snow Monday, all areas of the state reported some accumulation. Findlay had six inches, Youngstown four, Toledo eight, Cleveland and Akron two and Cincinnati one.

Mayor Ralston Westlake declared an emergency in Columbus which resulted in banning parking on 23 main streets in the capital city.

West of Springfield, a tractor-trailer truck jack-knifed on Interstate 70 and tied up all westbound traffic on the dual-lane highway for about three hours.

The light snow in hilly Cincinnati turned streets into sheets of ice. Queen City police reported 107 accidents between 3 and 8:45 p.m. Monday, and Hamilton County police had 60 accident calls during the rush hours.

Steubenville reported an accumulation of six to seven inches of snow this morning. All schools there and in Jefferson County were closed because of hazardous driving and walking conditions. Traffic jams were plentiful on Steubenville streets and the highways leading into the city, but no serious accidents were reported.

The highway patrol reported snow had not closed any of the state's main highways. However, a few in Southwestern Ohio are still closed because of flood waters.

All airports returned to normal operation after several had to stop operations during the height of the storm Monday.

At times Monday, the wind in Columbus was reported to have reached 25 miles per hour, but by midnight all was still.

Pittsburgh Clobbered By 12-Inch Snowfall

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A late winter storm swept across Pennsylvania today, dumping heavy accumulations of snow in some parts of the state, causing hazardous driving and forcing some schools to close.

Heavy snow warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau for virtually all of the state.

Pittsburgh, 12 inches; Greensburg, 14; Butler, 8; Somerset County, 9; Uniontown, 8; Washington, 12.

In Western Pennsylvania the storm forced the closing of some schools, some roads and the Greater Pittsburgh and Allegheny County airports. All Pittsburgh public and parochial schools closed today.

NATURE'S ARTWORK. Pretty enough for a Christmas card was this snowscene in a rural area this morning after the 10-inch snowfall that pleased nature lovers but found motorists less enthusiastic as they battled through clogged roads. The sneak storm blanketed the Tri-State area with 8 inches during the night and nearly 2 inches more this morning. The Ohio weatherman said the storm would taper into flurries this afternoon, but householders wondered as they got out the shovels.

Worst Fall Of Winter Hits Traffic

Secondary Roads Remain Blocked As Storm Continues

The heaviest snow of winter blanketed the Tri-State district today, snarling traffic, forcing the closing of virtually all schools and slowing production in industries with many workers unable to get to their jobs.

An estimated 26,000 pupils got an unscheduled vacation when the sneak storm that moved into the area Monday caused suspension of classes because of the hazards of travel.

The fall totaled over 8 inches early today mounted to between 9 and 10 inches by midmorning and the Ohio weatherman said another inch or 2 was possible. The average accumulation for the area was near 10 inches, rural areas getting the most.

All schools except those at East Palestine and Midland had closed this morning and Lisbon's school office said its buildings would remain shut Wednesday.

All other school districts face the possibility of being unable to reopen tomorrow.

Some 5,500 children in city schools also were excused from classes.

However, schools are expected to resume Wednesday — if the snow diminishes.

All schools in the Columbiana County system, involving some 5,746 pupils, were closed, including Beaver Local, Southern Local, United, and Fairfield-Waterford. Lisbon's 1,500 students also were dismissed.

George VanHorne, Beaver Local executive head, said the continuing snowfall and weather predictions made it "doubtful" classes would be held Wednesday, due to the clogged conditions of the district's back roads.

The public schools and the Immaculate Conception Parochial School at Wellsville also closed. William Menough, high school principal and acting superintendent, said the enrollment in the public schools is 1,814.

Parking Ban Slated For Snow Removal

Parking will be banned in the business district after 10 tonight to permit high-lifts, trucks and shoveling crews to begin snow removal, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said.

The ban will cover E. and W. 4th, 5th and 6th Sts. between Jackson and Walnut Sts., along with the intersecting streets—Broadway, Market and Washington. The entire area may not be cleared, but the work will cover as much territory as possible, Owen said. He also ordered a ban on Mulberry St. parking tonight. If Mulberry St. is not cleared tonight, the work will be done Wednesday night, Owen said.

Mr. K Calls For Overhaul Of Farm Plan

Poor Management Seen As Serious Threat To Program

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev has called for a sweeping overhaul of the Soviet Union's agricultural system to provide more meat and other food for the expanding Soviet population.

Poor management of the Soviets' collective farms has "seriously jeopardized" the country's agricultural program, Khrushchev warned in a six-hour speech Monday before the opening session of a Communist party Central Committee meeting called to approve new agricultural plans.

To cope with the mounting food shortage, Khrushchev proposed:

1. Planting about 55 million acres of grass land in corn, sugar beets, peas and fodder, despite objections from some agriculture experts that this departure from the traditional crop rotation system will result ultimately in less production.

2. Doubling production of farm machinery and encouraging the farmers to make better use of it.

The 1,300-m.p.h. jet made the trip Monday from Los Angeles to New York in 2 hours, 1 minute, took 26-plus minutes to turn around and refuel over the Atlantic, and streaked back here in 2 hours, 15 minutes.

The plans were submitted for the board's approval by Kellam & Foley, architects of Columbus.

The board authorized Supt. Robert H. Hall, secretary, to advertise for bids upon receiving word from the architects.

The tentative schedule calls for bids to be advertised March 19, and to be opened April 18. The board will have a 60-day period to study all construction bids.

Supt. Hall said the board will receive bids for construction of all three buildings at the same time.

Eastern U.S. Slammed By Heavy Snow

Virginia Hit Hard, With Up To 2 Feet; Jersey Flood Due

By The Associated Press

A late winter storm slammed across the eastern quarter of the nation today, dumping nearly two feet of snow in sections of Virginia and dusting areas southward into Alabama.

The storm, moving from the Northern Plains, centered along the Eastern seaboard and hit hard across the central and southern Appalachians and Middle Atlantic coast states.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect for inland sections of Virginia, eastern West Virginia, western and northern Maryland, most of Pennsylvania, New York and southern New England. Rain and sleet pelted coastal areas.

At Washington the Weather Bureau in a special bulletin predicted heavy flooding in the coastal lowlands of New Jersey northward into southern New England.

It said tides 3 to 5 feet above normal would be caused by 50 to 60 miles an hour onshore winds north of the storm center, which was just east of Ocean City, Md.

The blanket of snow piled up to 22 to 23 inches in Culpepper, Manassas and Winchester, in northern Virginia, and more than 15 inches in the Piedmont district in the central part of the state. Falls of two feet also were in prospect in southern Maryland. In Washington, above freezing temperatures melted most of the snow Monday but falls of four inches were indicated.

The storm in the south dumped snow across most of Kentucky and Tennessee and into the mountain regions of northern Georgia, the western Carolinas and parts of Alabama. Light snow fell in the 26-above temperature in Huntsville, Ala.

Cold air, powered by brisk northerly winds, spread deep into Texas and eastward to Georgia.

Senate Group Waits Powers Story On U2

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pilot Francis Gary Powers steps out of seclusion today for the first time and is expected to tell of seeing a mysterious parachute in the sky when he bailed out of his stricken U2 plane deep in the Soviet Union.

This new twist in the high-altitude cloak and dagger tale was expected to come out when Powers appears before the Senate Armed Services Committee to tell his story in public.

The biggest mystery of Powers' ill-starred flight, May 1, 1960, was what brought the U2 down—engine trouble, Soviet missiles or what?

At his Moscow trial, where he was sentenced to 10 years as an American spy, Powers refused to say that his plane had been hit at 68,000 feet by a Soviet rocket, as Soviet Premier Khrushchev had claimed.

He said there was an explosion and a bright glow but that he had "no idea what it was."

One informant said that as he now understands it, Powers thinks his plane was knocked down by a near-miss from a Soviet rocket.

Printing Firm Told To Start On Ballots

Board Adopts Ninth Grade's Study Change

Science, English To Be Required As Freshman Subjects

A drastic change in the program for ninth grade students was approved Monday night by the Board of Education.

The program provides that science and English will be the only required subjects for the freshmen. The other two major subjects will be elected by the students on the basis of their interests and ability.

A course on introduction to business along with a modern foreign language will be added to the ninth grade curriculum. And there will be no course designation, such as college prep, general or commercial.

In recommending the changes, Supt. Ralph W. Betts recalled he had briefed the board about the possible change at its meeting Feb. 5.

A general meeting of all eighth grade students was held early last month to expalin the changes. Many parents also attended.

The new program will allow the students more freedom in selection of courses, he explained. Each eighth grader will be counseled individually before entering ninth grade and then be given individual counseling each year thereafter, Betts said.

The board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Eleanor Miller, a cafeteria worker at Westgate, effective Friday, and Robert Neuwirth, a mathematics teacher at Westgate.

Letter Delivered To Mr. K

President's Reply Clears Way To Ministers' Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy replied today to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, clearing the way for the meeting of foreign ministers at Geneva to discuss nuclear testing and disarmament.

The President's letter to Khrushchev was delivered by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow.

Informed sources said the White House would make public Kennedy's letter and probably Khrushchev's letter to which the President is replying.

Khrushchev's lengthy message to Kennedy—and to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—arrived Sunday.

It was disclosed Monday that the Soviet premier, in a switch from his previous proposals for starting the March 14 Geneva disarmament conference at the summit level:

1. Agreed to the Kennedy-Macmillan proposal to launch the Geneva gathering at the foreign ministers level.

2. Agreed to send Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to Geneva a few days early to confer with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, as Kennedy and Macmillan had suggested.

Aides said Rusk planned to leave Washington in time to meet Gromyko and Home in Geneva about March 12, with a main topic to be a treaty on banning nuclear tests.

Khrushchev's 10-page letter was said to have included these other points:

27-Page Law Approved

3 Men Operate In Relays To Read Tax Regulations

Three men worked in relays for nearly an hour and a quarter at Council's session Monday night to read the 27-page resolution setting up the regulations for computation and collection of the new city income tax.

Council enacted the legislation under suspension of rules, 5-2, eliminating the necessity of reading the omnibus resolution at two more meetings.

Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray, consistent foes of the income tax measure, voted "no" on the motion for final passage. But Murray voted with the majority on an earlier motion to suspend the rules and the 6-1 count made it possible to approve the legislation at the single reading.

Favorable votes were cast by Councilmen Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw, Edward Massey, S. James Welch and Kenneth Berg, the same five who consistently supported the tax ordinance voted into law Friday night.

Reading of the huge piece of legislation began at 8:20 and was not completed until 9:35. Clerk Lawrence J. Zollinger was spelled off in the task by Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, and Robert F. Popp, the Review reporter, deputized by President Charles N. Edwards as deputy clerks for the occasion.

The three took turns reading three pages of the resolution. Law requires that every word of a proposed ordinance or resolution

President's Reply Clears Way To Ministers' Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy replied today to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, clearing the way for the meeting of foreign ministers at Geneva to discuss nuclear testing and disarmament.

The President's letter to Khrushchev was delivered by U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow.

Informed sources said the White House would make public Kennedy's letter and probably Khrushchev's letter to which the President is replying.

Khrushchev's lengthy message to Kennedy—and to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—arrived Sunday.

It was disclosed Monday that the Soviet premier, in a switch from his previous proposals for starting the March 14 Geneva disarmament conference at the summit level:

1. Agreed to the Kennedy-Macmillan proposal to launch the Geneva gathering at the foreign ministers level.

2. Agreed to send Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to Geneva a few days early to confer with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, as Kennedy and Macmillan had suggested.

Aides said Rusk planned to leave Washington in time to meet Gromyko and Home in Geneva about March 12, with a main topic to be a treaty on banning nuclear tests.

Khrushchev's 10-page letter was said to have included these other points:

27-Page Law Approved

3 Men Operate In Relays To Read Tax Regulations

Three men worked in relays for nearly an hour and a quarter at Council's session Monday night to read the 27-page resolution setting up the regulations for computation and collection of the new city income tax.

Council enacted the legislation under suspension of rules, 5-2, eliminating the necessity of reading the omnibus resolution at two more meetings.

Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray, consistent foes of the income tax measure, voted "no" on the motion for final passage. But Murray voted with the majority on an earlier motion to suspend the rules and the 6-1 count made it possible to approve the legislation at the single reading.

Favorable votes were cast by Councilmen Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw, Edward Massey, S. James Welch and Kenneth Berg, the same five who consistently supported the tax ordinance voted into law Friday night.

Reading of the huge piece of legislation began at 8:20 and was not completed until 9:35. Clerk Lawrence J. Zollinger was spelled off in the task by Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, and Robert F. Popp, the Review reporter, deputized by President Charles N. Edwards as deputy clerks for the occasion.

The three took turns reading three pages of the resolution. Law requires that every word of a proposed ordinance or resolution

Menus Will Feature Fish As Lenten Season Begins

Meatless meals of the Lenten season will mean temporary changes in food buying and eating habits for many families, Richard W. Skinner, market information specialist with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield, said today.

Many menus will feature fish and shellfish products, which will be available in a variety of forms and a wide range of prices, Skinner said.

Frozen fish is available whole, in fillets, steaks or pieces and as fish sticks or portions. Frozen shellfish, including shrimp, lobster, crab, scallops and oysters, also is available.

Prices vary a great deal depending upon the kind of fish or shellfish and the form, in terms of stage of preparation and packaging.

Frozen fish should be solidly frozen when bought, with no discoloration or browning. Good quality frozen fish also has little or no odor. However, much of our frozen seafoods is sold in packages that do not permit visual inspection of the product.

For these products, label information (including grade and inspection stamp) brand familiarity and display conditions can be used as guides.

The three official grades for many of the fish products are U.S. Grade A (the top quality) U.S. Grade B and substandard. In addition, fish products can be packed under continuous inspection of the Department of Interior. Products which have been inspected for wholesomeness will have this indicated on the package.

When buying fillets, steaks or fish sticks allow one third pound per person. Allow one half pound per serving on dressed fish and a full pound for whole fish.

Orange supplies for late winter and spring will be large, despite the crop loss suffered early this year in Texas and Florida. Production of Florida Valencias for market now through spring is expected to be 18 per cent above a year ago.

Prices continue a little below last year on Florida oranges, but are slightly higher than a year earlier on western navels. Temple oranges remain in good supply and are priced well below a year ago.

Grapefruit supplies were more seriously affected by the freeze than oranges. The supply remaining to market as of Feb. 1 was about 15 per cent under a year ago. However, prices are only slightly above a year ago.

Consumers have been buying frozen orange juice concentrate at the rate of 46 per cent more than for a comparable week last year. There will probably be continued encouragement for consumers to buy multiple packs — with supplies generally considered to be larger than last year with large amounts of oranges having found their way to the processors after the freeze.

Spanish Duchess Dies

MADRID, Spain (AP) — The Duchess of Santona, 82, a grandee of Spain, died Sunday after a long illness. The duchess, a sister of the late Duke of Alba, former Spanish ambassador to London, had been a widow since 1929.

Driver Gets Fine Instead Of Suspension

A Louisville (Ohio) motorist escaped suspension of his driver's license but was fined $30 and costs Monday afternoon in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to speeding 80 miles an hour Sunday on the Cannons Mill hills.

Donald Wilson, a steelworker, admitted he was in excess of the 45-mile limit but denied he was doing 80. "I imagine I was going 55 to 60," he told the court.

The patrol charged that Wilson came south down the hill into Cannons Mill at 80 miles an hour and then "slowed down to 65 or 70" on the first two curves heading up the next grade. He then speeded up to 80, the patrol said.

Meanwhile, Roy D. Hull, 1238 Croft St., was fined $40 and costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a reckless driving charge.

Limping and with one arm heavily bandaged, the 36-year-old motorist pleaded guilty to the charge filed by police last Wednesday after his car ran out of control for 550 feet on W. 8th St., crashed into a stone retaining wall and then struck a utility pole. Hull was thrown 22 feet by the impact, police said.

Meanwhile, four motorists cited by the State Highway Patrol for speeding in excess of the 25-mile limit in a construction zone in the California Hollow section of Route 30 are due hearings this week.

Lester Gamble and Carl Young, both of R. D. 2, and Gale L. Williams of Lisbon R. D. 3 are due to appear Wednesday at 9 a. m. The patrol said Gamble and Williams were doing 45 miles an hour and Young was traveling 40 miles an hour in the 25-mile zone. All three were cited Friday.

Donald E. Myers of North Canton, also cited Friday for doing 45 in the same area, is due for a hearing Friday at 9 a. m.

Edward Kobulnicky of Bulger, Pa., posted a $32.50 bond for a hearing Monday at 9 a. m. for passing on a curve Friday afternoon on Route 30.

Action Due March 19

Council To Study Truck Purchase

Council agreed Monday night to consider legislation at its next session March 19 authorizing the administration to advertise for bids for two new trucks for use in the street department, replacing wornout models which have been deadlined.

The action was taken after Safety-Service Director Robert Owen submitted a report and photos to show the condition of the trucks that have been taken out of service. He asked authority to purchase two two-ton vehicles. One of the deadlined trucks is a 1950 model and the other is a 1951, he reported.

THE DIRECTOR handed Council 8-x-10 photos of the trucks, which he explained were taken by Police Lt. Thomas A. Walker, using police department equipment, at no expense to the city.

A third truck was deadlined, but later returned to service, Owen explained. He said two new trucks should be purchased "immediately" and another will be required "in the near future."

Councilman George E. Willshaw, finance committee chairman, made the motion for presentation of enabling legislation, which was approved unanimously.

"With the weather as it is tonight, we need all available equipment to spread ashes and salt," he said. Willshaw said the two trucks have been deadlined since Feb. 24.

ALSO ON A motion by Willshaw, Council agreed to consider legislation at the March 19 meeting authorizing the administration to advertise for bids on leasing or renting autos for use as police cruisers, rather than purchasing the vehicles outright.

The preliminary investigation of the leasing proposal was made by the planning committee, headed by Councilman Floyd Murray.

Willshaw said the finance committee will put the 1962 appropriation ordinance into final form within the next two weeks. He asked all department heads to submit their budgets to the committee as soon as possible.

Councilman Kenneth Berg, reporting for the street committee, recommended a 90-day trial of one-way traffic, southbound only, in Crook Alley between E. 5th St. and E. 4th St. Council approved the suggestion.

Council approved unanimously a resolution calling for payment of two bills against the city. It provides payment of $27 to William S. McKeever, 238 Ravine St., for damage to his auto June 21 when it went into an unmarked ditch on Maine Blvd.

IT ALSO PROVIDES payment of $61 to Mrs. Mary Hughey, 1839 Ohio Ave., for injuries suffered March 18, 1961, when she fell in a chuckhole on Myrtle Ave., injuring ligaments in her ankle.

Two more bills against the city were referred to the claims committee for investigation.

Mrs. Linda Burlingame of Grant St. asked $290 for damage to her auto, struck Feb. 21 on Grant St. by a city incinerator department truck. Mary Graham of Negley filed a bill for $24 for a window of her auto, which she said was broken Feb. 16 on Dresden Ave. when hit by a cinder thrown off a city ash truck.

Council received and filed the annual report of the Civil Service Commission, along with a budget request of $1,450 for 1962. The budget figures were given to the finance committee.

THE FINANCE committee also was given an estimate from Owen on the cost of installing metal siding on a building at the landfill dump in Bloomfield, razed by fire a week ago. The cost has been estimated at $750, Owen said. The foundation and girders of the building probably can be used again, he said.

Owen said a representative of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. will be at his office Saturday at 10 a. m. to talk and show slides on a new method of street maintenance. He invited Council and the public to attend.

Murray reported a building at Michigan Ave. and Putnam St. recently was razed on orders of the state fire marshal's office, but two chimneys were left standing. Terming the chimneys a hazard to youngsters playing around the site, he asked Council what can be done to force the property-owner to tear them down. Nails scattered on the street nearby have caused flat tires on passing autos, Murray added.

Murray said he understands the property-owner has been notified by the fire marshal and the City Health Board to tear down the chimneys, but has not complied.

OWEN WAS ASKED to contact the fire marshal's office again to learn if further action can be taken.

Councilman Edward Massey reported he has received a letter from Donald Campbell of W. 8th St. proposing a solution to the off-street parking problems of W. 8th St. residents. It involves a "swap" between the city and a private property-owner of some lots in the vicinity of Gaston Ave., Massey said. The letter was referred to the street committee.

As the meeting neared a close, Councilman Frank Duffy asked about recent billings of the city water department. He charged that some householders recently received bills for amounts allegedly due but unpaid "three or four years ago." He asked if water bills always show the current account, plus any delinquency.

"I don't know, but I think it's customary," President Charles Edwards replied. "However, I can't answer definitely."

"Some of these people have lost the receipts for their old bills," Duffy said. "I don't think they should be made to pay again if they have later bills showing no delinquencies."

"THERE WAS A stampede of people in the water office Saturday morning with old bills," Duffy continued. "I think the utility board should investigate."

Massey, concurring with Duffy, asked if Council "can stop this practice."

Donald Hay of E. Drury Ln. spoke as the meeting closed, suggesting a new course for Truck Route 39.

Trucks now follow Broadway and the River Rd. between downtown and East End, avoiding the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Because of the steep grades, Hay said he feels the route should be altered, possibly via Dresden Ave., Market St. and E. 4th St.

The meeting opened with invocation by Pastor Lymon Euler of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Rogers Airs Damage In Mine Blasting

ROGERS — Complaints concerning the effects of blasting at a nearby coal mine operation were ordered discussed with the firm by Council at a meeting Monday night.

Village officials are to consult with the ABC Coal Mine Co. about complaints of broken windows and damaged wells said to be the result of blasting at the mine near the village limits.

The Ohio Bureau of Mines will also be notified if a satisfactory arrangement can not be made with the firm.

Mayor Robert McCreary reported County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw is to prepare a written opinion on the legality of a proposed one-year service contract volunteer fire department.

An ordinance has been prepared setting up the service agreement, but there has been some question of the legality of the plan because four members of Council are firemen.

Discussion was held on the heating bills for the Village Hall, which amounted to $241 for December, January and February. Councilmen suggested a study be made on the controls for the oil heating system installed in December to cut costs. The February bill was $77.

The contractor — Crawford Heating Co. of Columbiana—will be instructed to complete the installation of runs.

Council discussed street improvements and authorized a request be filed with the State Highway Department for repairs on a hump on a road leading to the Rudibaugh Feed Mill. Replacement of the steps at the Village Hall was also ordered.

Mayor McCreary was instructed not to enlist Rogers in any Civil Defense program without obtaining consent from Council.

Tax Law

must be read aloud in public before Council can act upon it.

The income tax resolution contains thousands of words — the equivalent of a short novel. Five persons sat patiently in the audience throughout.

"There are 27 pages here and we just got it a little while ago," he said. "How can we vote intelligently?"

Murray, next to speak, said there "are a few things about the legislation I don't like."

He objected to a clause that provides the tax must be paid on vacation pay issued in 1963 and 1964. The ordinance exempts 1962 vacation pay on the theory it is for work performed in 1961, before the law was in effect.

Murray also declared that the tax should be computed on net income, not gross earnings. The federal income tax law takes at least 20 per cent of an employe's vacation pay before he receives it, he added.

Willshaw and Edwards joined in explaining to Murray that the resolution merely sets up the regulations under which the tax will be collected. The legislation passed Friday imposed the tax, they pointed out.

"Every city income tax ordinance here has had this same provision about vacation pay," Edwards explained. "This ordinance is the same as others in the past, except for dates and amounts, according to the solicitor."

Then Duffy questioned a section exempting personal compensation paid "general executive officers for acting as such." He said he believes the item should be taxable.

"This should have been explained to us in laymen's language," Murray said. "Anyone can make himself an executive officer!"

A moment later the last vote was taken, resulting in final enactment of the resolution.

Leroy Fotheringham of Gardendale spoke from the audience in opposition to the income tax. He said he proposes to set up a "watchdog" committee of citizens to look over city operations and expenditures.

Following adoption of the tax regulations, Council approved a motion by Willshaw, finance committee chairman, to study legislation at the meeting March 19 authorizing Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate to borrow against anticipated real estate and personal property taxes and other receipts in order to meet the March 20 payroll.

Willshaw pointed out that the auditor previously advised Council he would be able to meet yesterday's payroll with a tax advance received last week from County Auditor Kenneth Bell, but that insufficient funds would be available to meet the next payroll March 20.

Willshaw asked for legislation authorizing borrowing from banks on short-term notes which can be redeemed out of future tax receipts. The motion passed unanimously.

Annexation Vote Slated

EAST PALESTINE — An ordinance proposing annexation of three areas to the city as a basic sewage district was approved in an emergency move Monday night by Council, paving the way for a township wide vote in the May 8 primary.

The areas consist of the south half of Section 23, including the Hays Farm; the southwest quarter of Section 24, including Rogers Addition, and the eastern part of Section 27.

The total area involved amounts to 1.2 square miles or a 60 per cent addition to the present 2 square miles of the city.

The proposed annexation is considerably smaller than the original proposal of county officials concerning a general sewage district, and is also less than originally considered by Council.

Council's move stemmed from the need for a system to curb serious pollution of streams, especially in the Rogers Addition.

The election proposal, to be certified to the County Board of Elections, will be considered by all voters in Unity Township with the exception of residents of East Palestine and New Waterford.

Thirsty Thief Takes Beer At Warehouse

A thirsty thief made off with six cases of beer from the S. & G. Distributing Co. warehouse, 1253 Pennsylvania Ave., over the weekend, police were notified this morning.

John Falone, general manager, said four cases of bottled beer and two cases of canned beer were taken by the thief who broke a 12-x-20-inch window on the east side of the building to gain entrance.

No Steel Action Until May 1

David J. McDonald of United Steelworkers may have been piling it on when he mentioned next May 1 as the likely date for resuming negotiations for a new contract. He may have been doing some bargaining, in fact.

Management representatives in the negotiations must know by this time that circumstances have put Mr. McDonald and his associates over a barrel as far as 1962 bargaining is concerned.

The thing his union's membership wants least is anything that sounds like a strike. Steelworkers are still groggy from the last time they went through the strike-wringer.

Management has done exactly what it said it would do as rapidly as it could if the union blocked its proposed changes in work rules in 1959; it has automated wherever it could in the attempt to cut down its production costs.

Whether their contract negotiators like it or not, steelworkers now are negotiating for jobs, as well as for higher rates and benefits.

Secretary of Labor Goldberg, former general counsel for the Steelworkers Union, now is in a new role. He has said twice in recent days that in this role he intends to define and defend the public interest in negotiations for labor contracts.

The public interest — as previously defined by President Kennedy — calls for stabilization of the U.S. economy — no more wage inflation — no further moves to put U.S. production at a disadvantage in competition for trade.

This means no more additions to overhead in the steel industry. It means no increases in wage rates that cannot be balanced by increases in productivity.

Altogether it means that President McDonald of the Steelworkers has been put into the position of going through the motions of bargaining for something he could get by asking his old employe Mr. Goldberg what is allowable.

IF THIS HAS become plain in the negotiations, it's nothing to wonder about that they have been suspended.

Perhaps the negotiators have nothing more to talk about. Perhaps it's all cut and dried.

But if it were cut and dried and the news got out, steel-buying would sag. There would be no inducement to get orders in early at the old price because the steam would have been let out of the industry's threat to raise the price to recover higher production costs under a new contract.

Stabilization of the economy would mean just that — stabilized earnings, stabilized wage costs, stabilized prices. It's a prospect to give a union leader fits, which could be what Mr. McDonald is having at about this stage of the 1962 negotiations.

A Sound Base

The Tri-State Science Fair, held at Steubenville this year for the first time, again has offered district students a sounding board for their interest in scientific endeavers.

Most of the displays reflected a lot of hard work and serious thought. The fair plays its part in helping to stimulate science on the ground-floor level.

Those who joined the competition should be better students as a result.

Two Clues To The Future

Two momentous meetings begin this week —the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union in Moscow and the Chinese Peoples Congress in Peiping.

Americans will have to learn what is decided at the meetings. We have more at stake than even the Russians and the Chinese, most of whom have no chance of learning. What we will find out could affect the rest of our lives and the lives of future generations.

It could even make Communist Russia and capitalistist United States allies again, as they were in World War II when their common enemy was Germany. International pressure can make stranger bedfellows than domestic politics.

In this week's meetings and other meetings to come the schism in the Sino-Soviet Communist bloc either must be closed or events will widen it into a complete separation.

The Soviet Communist Party Congress last October laid down the line that Communism can triumph over the West without war. "Peaceful co-existence of the socialist and capitalist countries in an objective necessary for the development of human society . . . Peaceful co-existence implies renunication of war," it declared.

Chinese Communists contend that Nicolai Lenin was correct—that war between communist and capitalist states in inevitable.

Peiping ideologists contend that the struggle between socialism and peace are irreconcilable and that socialism's final triumph cannot be attained without war.

A struggle between these ideological camps has been in progress a long time and turned sharp last October when Nikita Khrushchev attacked Albania, which has become virtually a Red Chinese satellite. Russia lately has been beaming broadcasts at China pleading with it to return to the ideological fold, but Peiping continues to view Krushchev and his associates as "revisionists," which amounts in Communist jargon to calling your former friend a traitor to the true faith.

If Chinese Communists, with upward of a billion people in China alone and all of South Asia to go fishing in, faces off with Russian Communists, the latter would be heavily outnumbered but still would possess industrial superiority. The meetings this week may provide two clues to their next moves.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Courage, candor and dedication of astronauts, come life or death, makes folks wish men in political life could perform the same way. We tried to imagine average public office holder under quiz which John Glenn got:

Q. Mister Office Holder, in your flights through hazards of political space what was your most harrowing moments?

A: All periods when I had to make quick decision on my own without a caucus, huddle with party leaders and careful consideration of effects at the polls.

Q: Did you have heat-shield?

Q: Was it hot?

A: Boy, do I burn when I have to come through a situation like that.

Q: What was your major mechanical trouble?

A: There was a period of panic when I found my Contortionist or Twist-and-Turn button out of order.

Q: What about your Wobble Eliminator for use in tight situations?

A: There was a Wobble Eliminator in the machine originally but I took it out. Once he can't wobble, a politician is dead.

Q: There was reference to your "AC." What was that?

A: It was my Automatic Compromiser, which works in co-ordination with my Expediency Gauge. Luckily it was AOK.

Q: Did you see many stars?

A: I saw them, but could detect no voting machines on them so I didn't pay much attention.

Q: Were you uncomfortable lying on your back?

Q: What color did the sunset and dawns seem to be?

A: No comment until I go over that with the party chairman.

Q: Could you look down and see much of earth?

A: I may be only a minor office-holder but I can always see governors' mansions and the White House, no matter where I am.

Q: Did you feel weightless?

Q: Have you ever had an escape hatch worry you?

FOUR OR FIVE YEARS AGO on a TV show "Name That Tune," a fellow won $15,000 and his name meant little. He had made a record coast to coast flight but such air trips were close to routine. One of the tunes he recognized was "Far Away Places." He was John Glenn, who was destined to get into more faraway places than any American in history.

Glenn was also on "I've Got A Secret." But who knew that he would figure for years in some of the top secrets of Canaveral?

We are waiting (pistol in hand) for the first TV commercial plugging a dietary pill and beginning "You don't have to penetrate outer space to get WEIGHTLESS."

Broadway now has a drama for people who want to spend two or three hours studying a suicide. Remember away back when you went to the theater to have a pleasant evening?

Telecasting of a Broadway production to a theater miles away simultaneously with stage performance may forecast time when hit musicals, comedies and dramas will be "pumped" from Broadway to theaters and auditoriums in numerous cities. Theater of tomorrow may be airborne. It may be easier and less of a strain for playgoer half way across country to see a New York show than for a New York to do it.

In some respects a fellow in Hoosick Falls or Hollyhock Hills could get all the best of it. No frenzied battle for tickets, no traffic jams, no latecomers stepping all over him in middle of first act and no theater orangeade at 35 cents a gill!

Will it ultimately mean telecasting of Broadway shows direct into homes via coin in slot? Will the day come when you can "attend" an opening night in your stocking feet and bathrobe lying on a couch?

Question "Seen any good Broadway plays lately?" may one day be answered with "No; a tube of my TV set blew out." Effect on actors and actresses would be interesting to observe. They may "ham it up" beyond all reason if they know they are not appearing merely before one theater audience but before audiences in dozens of cities. Will it mark the disappearance of the "trouper?" Why those train trips if he or she can "play the road" by outdoor aerial? Curtain (coast to coast) going up!

New Jobs, Space Go Hand In Hand

By Victor Riesel

After fighting through the crush of earthbound masses along the confetti trail of Lt. Col. John Glenn, I returned to a mass of reports. They proved that he has made more than astro-history. He has made thousands on thousands of new space age jobs — just as, in effect, thousands of craftsmen with new skills have "made" him.

Victor Riesel

He has put permanency into the space business. Look, for example, at the three "Super Clean White Rooms" in the McDonnell Aircraft Company's St. Louis installations. There, right now 1,000 members of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) are working on the next orbital buggies. These are the new Mercury space capsules. They are being groomed and nursed carefully for an 18 orbital trip around the earth.

LONG BEFORE Glenn hit the outer rim, there was a peak "load' of 1,800 craftsmen putting his Friendship 7 together. Now while the newest Mercury is being readied for the newest hero, some 700 of these workmen are beginning to phase-up the Gemini—the "twin", two-man capsule.

When peak load is reached on this project, it will take 3,000 in all to ready it for the airlift to Cape Canaveral. There it will be attended by another 360 artisans. They'll check it out and stay right with it to the final count down.

Right now the new Mercury and the new Gemini are in fascinating rooms so bare of germs a surgeon could do an open heart operation and not worry about contamination, they tell me.

It takes hundreds of additional workers to create these super clean quarters for the capsule cone—six feet at the base and nine feet tall. The rooms—three at McDonnell and one at Canaveral—are 9,000 feet square. The filtration system is so powerful it removes dust down to three-tenths of a micron, which is invisible. When I asked if intrusion of dust or an oil bubble could eventually throw the craft off its trajectory, I was told even mere perspiration would.

So the antiseptic quarters are kept at 72 degrees temperature, humidity at 50. A special plastic, transparent cover always protects the capsule, even when the men work on it. And the craftsmen themselves must don special white caps, dust-proof nylon coats and pants and plastic shoes. All this goes on at McDonnell, but it is a long trail to the St. Louis quarters.

THAT ROAD splits and splits all along the nation's industrial sectors. McDonnell Aircraft was "fed" by 4,000 other firms. McDonnell itself dealt directly with the first "tier"—some 600 feeder contractors.

These, in turn, farmed out orders to the second "tier"—some 1,600 companies. Then onto the third and fourth and sometimes more tiers for the other 1,800.

At McDonnell itself, maker of the Quail, the Talos and the Typhon, as well as the world's fastest fighter plane, the Phantom II (1,606 miles an hour), there were 12,323 IAM members at the latest count.

Relations are fine. There was not a single strike on the Mercury project. Craftsmen worked closely with the technicians and engineers.

Creative suggestions came from the skilled workers themselves. Typical was the cooperation which developed a method for welding paper-thin titanium for the "skin" of the capsule. It worked.

SUGGESTIONS on new techniques came from everybody in the operation—and the astronauts as well. Some operations were simple, such as molding the capsule couch to each astronaut's form. Some operations still are classified. There always will be need for this type of cooperation—for it will be a long time before the custom-built capsule is so "tooled up" that it can be put on an assembly line.

Each capsule differs somewhat because each capsule has a different mission. And as this nation—and others—need more capsules, the space business will grow and jobs will increase.

McDonnell Aircraft started with two men, J. S. McDonnell and a male secretary in a small room rented from American Airlines at the St. Louis Municipal Airport. Today its total staff members 23,000—the vanguard of the space age workers and technicians, the users of a new jargon, the developers of a new type of labor relations in a new age. And this is one of many companies probing the outer frontiers.

This is the answer to "automation"—new industries ever reaching upward and outward, ever employing more and more breadwinners.

To All Marchlings

By Truman Twill

A few remarks about March are in order as the month blows in again, because it's the birthday month for many of us. It's also the birthday month for Twillery lambs, which seems significant because nothing on earth seems so ill - suited for survival as a soaking - wet lamb shivering in a cold barn.

Yet, lambs born in these circumstances do survive if they can be kept from freezing to death long enough to get their legs under them and find their way around and around and around their mothers until what they are looking for is there, before their still unknowing eyes.

This is the way it is with March babies. They're a hardy group, though to see them at the start is not reassuring because they come into a world full of adversity. Some never rally from the first hammer blows that fall on them and are permanently embittered.

Other March babies do not start life with a dour outlook. They do not grow up dyspeptic and ill-natured due to early brushes with falling temperatures and high winds.

They were not touted off optimism by the early realization that life is as real and earnest as floods and gales that wash out bridges and blow down barns.

All the things these sanguine March babies turn their hands to work out wonderfully well. They are living monuments to the happy June marriages that crowds the March calendar with layettes and baby books year after year.

They make up for Marchlings who merely persevered in their determination to hang on to life in spite of high winds and climatic misdemeanors — the unfavored ones who developed no graces and were useful only for shock troops, football linemen, and jobs with fearful responsibilities.

They are full of grace instead of rancor.

Their lives are symphonies instead of discords.

They give March a good name as a birthday month, despite the baleful influence of stony-eyed churls who make it seem as if March must have been a time when devils scurried abroad and pierced bassinets with their tridents.

With Marchlings there is this dichotomy of makeup — a wavering between the two things a Marchling may be — like those March days just before April when it is night and day, winter and summer, rain and shine, black and blue all in one tumultous, sweet, angry, tranquil day.

We must be forgiven.

It is not our doing. It is because of March, a month that shouldn't happen to a polar bear or a boa constrictor, a seal or a lizard, yet through no fault of our own did happen to us.

An Equitable Tax Plan Is Urged

Four times up and four times down. Don't you think it's about time that someone would question why.

Now a fifth round is here. Must a person continue to swallow the fact that his or her vote (which is his or her voice) means so little that it can be smothered by so few without asking why?

For years now Council has hammered at the citizenry of East Liverpool that the city officials need additional operating funds to maintain the services we expect.

I personally don't think one in a hundred would question this as we know, as the heads of households, that costs have increased. We do feel though that under this latest income tax that Council should spend as wisely as possible and economize as though each dollar were the last. Let's try to get a true picture of what we actually need. What we do question is why after a tax has been levied and defeated so many times it would be submitted in practically the identical phrasing of the original. Surely these gentlemen of Council have heard objections to certain elements of the income tax that should give them a clue as to why it has been defeated four times and surely seems headed for the same come next November. Many have been the objections I have heard. For instance, a few would be, unequal, unfair, two levels of taxation, taxation without representation, etc.

The big one seems to me to be two levels of taxation, to wit, an hourly or salaried wage-earner must pay tax upon the gross amount of his earnings, a business must pay on its net returns, so it should be. But let's face it, that wage-earner has operating expenses, too, and many of them, even our federal government, realize this. If it is to be net for one element then let's make it net for all. This is but one example, many more could be voiced. Method of income tax levied also draws its share of dissension, such remarks as establish an income tax pro-rated on federal income tax paid (as per West Virginia state income tax) or such as Midland's occupation tax.

Perhaps with a little thought, we could come up with others even better. I don't think gentlemen that you have to sell the citizenry of good ole East Liverpool on the need of the tax itself, but rather your problem, I would say, is to sell them the tax properly set up. Let's get with it, gentlemen. Give the people an equitable plan and we will give you all the backing you want.

Would Shake Up Administration

I certainly think the people of East Liverpool need to waken up and find out just what's going on.

What's the use of going to the polls to vote when there are a select few who can override what you have voted against?

If my memory is correct, the first time the income tax was defeated we also voted that all money be refunded; that again was never carried out. So what's the use of voting on anything? When work goes slack in the mill or potteries, they have a layoff to cut expenses. When the pay chack is less the housewife must cut corners. So why can't the city cut a few corners?

The population of East Liverpool is less now than it was 10 years ago. Yet we have the largest police force we have ever had in East Liverpool (not counting the Meter Maids who get around $300 a month). Sure, other cities have them, but they also have the money to pay them. Where is all the money going that is taken in on parking meters, parking tickets that run into thousands of dollars, not counting the revenue that is derived from other taxes, such as inheritance tax, gasoline tax, property tax and a lot more?

When you have a wreck, whether it's your fault or not, you still pay a fine. Where's that going? I don't think there is a pottery worker in the city that wouldn't take a steady job year in and year out for $300 a month or more a month. The city crews that work the hardest are the least paid.

I think we need somebody to come in and shake up the whole administration, not only the Water Department that came up with a shortage that was hushed up in a hurry. The income tax hasn't done one bit of good in three or four years. There certainly is something the matter some place.

We need a few more men like Mr. Duffy who will not be afraid to speak up — not just be a yes man. When a group of people attend a meeting, it usually is or the purpose of being able to voice their opinion. But they couldn't even speak. There wasn't time to hear the voice of the people. Council was in too big a hurry to do another cramming job on the people. Yet when it comes time to vote they want the people to take time and vote. What for? Fly the red flag at the City Hall. That's sure what belongs there.

Why Are People's Wishes Ignored?

As I sat in at City Council March 2, I heard, and saw, councilmen sitting back in their chairs looking around and apparently not thinking or trying to realize just what they were asking for.

I had called Mr. Welch before Council meeting on March 1, which I thought he would consider a little before voting yes at this meeting, but he went ahead and voted yes any way. I asked Mr. Welch if he thought the city needed this tax? He said yes. I then asked, What was the total income received for 1961? His reply was, $1,914,126.04. I also asked what was the amount spent by the city. He replied, $1,972,984.47. This amount ran over the money the city received by $58,858.43.

I then asked Mr. Welch how much did Council on their appropriation say was needed for 1961. I never received the answer.

Now Mr. Willshaw has estimated it will take around $1,500,000 for the fiscal year 1962, although he also states that the city will receive around $98,000 less than 1961.

All I ask is for the public to read and do a little head work and figure out why this is happening to us. I quoted figures in the Council meeting, but to no avail. They still passed by a 5-1 vote the income tax. Your vote and mine put these men in office, so why do they refuse to abide by the people's wishes?

Now back to the first of this letter. Each councilman apparently walked into this meeting with one thought: I don't care what, this is what we (council) and the mayor want and this we will have. I am referring to the four who made no move whatsoever to think of the people's wishes. Mr. Duffy and Mr. Murray voted no all the way.

'Little Dictators Do It Again'

I wish to raise my voice loud and clear again that I am against the passing of the city income tax against the wishes of the voters of East Liverpool.

I will repeat that under an amendment to the Constitution, we can demand our right to vote on the tax and Council violates the Constitution by passing the tax without giving the people a chance to vote on the tax.

I will have to say that it has come to dictatorship. I will have to say "The Little Dictators have done it again". If I had a Russian flag, I would send it to them. They sure have earned it.

No Steel Action Until May 1

David J. McDonald of United Steelworkers may have been piling it on when he mentioned next May 1 as the likely date for resuming negotiations for a new contract. He may have been doing some bargaining, in fact.

Management representatives in the negotiations must know by this time that circumstances have put Mr. McDonald and his associates over a barrel as far as 1962 bargaining is concerned.

The thing his union's membership wants least is anything that sounds like a strike. Steelworkers are still groggy from the last time they went through the strike-wringer.

Management has done exactly what it said it would do as rapidly as it could if the union blocked its proposed changes in work rules in 1959; it has automated wherever it could in the attempt to cut down its production costs.

Whether their contract negotiators like it or not, steelworkers now are negotiating for jobs, as well as for higher rates and benefits.

Secretary of Labor Goldberg, former general counsel for the Steelworkers Union, now is in a new role. He has said twice in recent days that in this role he intends to define and defend the public interest in negotiations for labor contracts.

The public interest — as previously defined by President Kennedy — calls for stabilization of the U.S. economy — no more wage inflation — no further moves to put U.S. production at a disadvantage in competition for trade.

This means no more additions to overhead in the steel industry. It means no increases in wage rates that cannot be balanced by increases in productivity.

Altogether it means that President McDonald of the Steelworkers has been put into the position of going through the motions of bargaining for something he could get by asking his old employe Mr. Goldberg what is allowable.

IF THIS HAS become plain in the negotiations, it's nothing to wonder about that they have been suspended.

Perhaps the negotiators have nothing more to talk about. Perhaps it's all cut and dried.

But if it were cut and dried and the news got out, steel-buying would sag. There would be no inducement to get orders in early at the old price because the steam would have been let out of the industry's threat to raise the price to recover higher production costs under a new contract.

Stabilization of the economy would mean just that — stabilized earnings, stabilized wage costs, stabilized prices. It's a prospect to give a union leader fits, which could be what Mr. McDonald is having at about this stage of the 1962 negotiations.

And the craftsmen themselves must don special white caps, dust-proof nylon coats and pants and plastic shoes. All this goes on at McDonnell, but it is a long trail to the St. Louis quarters.

THAT ROAD splits and splits all along the nation's industrial sectors. McDonnell Aircraft was "fed" by 4,000 other firms. McDonnell itself dealt directly with the first "tier"—some 600 feeder contractors.

These, in turn, farmed out orders to the second "tier"—some 1,600 companies. Then onto the third and fourth and sometimes more tiers for the other 1,800.

At McDonnell itself, maker of the Quail, the Talos and the Typhon, as well as the world's fastest fighter plane, the Phantom II (1,606 miles an hour), there were 12,323 IAM members at the latest count.

Relations are fine. There was not a single strike on the Mercury project. Craftsmen worked closely with the technicians and engineers.

Creative suggestions came from the skilled workers themselves. Typical was the cooperation which developed a method for welding paper-thin titanium for the "skin" of the capsule. It worked.

SUGGESTIONS on new techniques came from everybody in the operation—and the astronauts as well. Some operations were simple, such as molding the capsule couch to each astronaut's form. Some operations still are classified. There always will be need for this type of cooperation—for it will be a long time before the custom-built capsule is so "tooled up" that it can be put on an assembly line.

Each capsule differs somewhat because each capsule has a different mission. And as this nation—and others—need more capsules, the space business will grow and jobs will increase.

McDonnell Aircraft started with two men, J. S. McDonnell and a male secretary in a small room rented from American Airlines at the St. Louis Municipal Airport. Today its total staff members 23,000—the vanguard of the space age workers and technicians, the users of a new jargon, the developers of a new type of labor relations in a new age. And this is one of many companies probing the outer frontiers.

This is the answer to "automation"—new industries ever reaching upward and outward, ever employing more and more breadwinners.

To All Marchlings

By Truman Twill

A few remarks about March are in order as the month blows in again, because it's the birthday month for many of us. It's also the birthday month for Twillery lambs; which seems significant because nothing on earth seems so ill - suited for survival as a soaking - wet lamb shivering in a cold barn.

Yet, lambs born in these circumstances do survive if they can be kept from freezing to death long enough to get their legs under them and find their way around and around and around their mothers until what they are looking for is there, before their still unknowing eyes.

This is the way it is with March babies. They're a hardy group, though to see them at the start is not reassuring because they come into a world full of adversity. Some never rally from the first hammer blows that fall on them and are permanently embittered.

Other March babies do not start life with a dour outlook. They do not grow up dyspeptic and ill-natured due to early brushes with falling temperatures and high winds.

They were not touted off optimism by the early realization that life is as real and earnest as floods and gales that wash out bridges and blow down barns.

All the things these sanguine March babies turn their hands to work out wonderfully well. They are living monuments to the happy June marriages that crowds the March calendar with layettes and baby books year after year.

They make up for Marchlings who merely persevered in their determination to hang on to life in spite of high winds and climatic misdemeanors — the unfavored ones who developed no graces and were useful only for shock troops, football linemen, and jobs with fearful responsibilities.

They are full of grace instead of rancor.

Their lives are symphonies instead of discords.

They give March a good name as a birthday month, despite the baleful influence of stony-eyed churls who make it seem as if March must have been a time when devils scurried abroad and pierced bassinets with their tridents.

With Marchlings there is this dichotomy of makeup — a wavering between the two things a Marchling may be — like those March days just before April when it is night and day, winter and summer, rain and shine, black and blue all in one tumultous, sweet, angry, tranquil day.

We must be forgiven.

It is not our doing. It is because of March, a month that shouldn't happen to a polar bear or a boa constrictor, a seal or a lizard, yet through no fault of our own did happen to us.

An Equitable Tax Plan Is Urged

Four times up and four times down. Don't you think it's about time that someone would question why.

Now a fifth round is here. Must a person continue to swallow the fact that his or her vote (which is his or her voice) means so little that it can be smothered by so few without asking why?

For years now Council has hammered at the citizenry of East Liverpool that the city officials need additional operating funds to maintain the services we expect.

I personally don't think one in a hundred would question this as we know, as the heads of households, that costs have increased. We do feel though that under this latest income tax that Council should spend as wisely as possible and economize as though each dollar were the last. Let's try to get a true picture of what we actually need. What we do question is why after a tax has been levied and defeated so many times it would be submitted in practically the identical phrasing of the original. Surely these gentlemen of Council have heard objections to certain elements of the income tax that should give them a clue as to why it has been defeated four times and surely seems headed for the same come next November. Many have been the objections I have heard. For instance, a few would be, unequal, unfair, two levels of taxation, taxation without representation, etc.

The big one seems to me to be two levels of taxation, to wit, an hourly or salaried wage-earner must pay tax upon the gross amount of his earnings, a business must pay on its net returns, so it should be. But let's face it, that wage-earner has operating expenses, too, and many of them, even our federal government, realize this. If it is to be net for one element then let's make it net for all. This is but one example, many more could be voiced. Method of income tax levied also draws its share of dissension, such remarks as establish an income tax pro-rated on federal income tax paid (as per West Virginia state income tax) or such as Midland's occupation tax.

Perhaps with a little thought, we could come up with others even better. I don't think gentlemen that you have to sell the citizenry of good ole East Liverpool on the need of the tax itself, but rather your problem, I would say, is to sell them the tax properly set up. Let's get with it, gentlemen. Give the people an equitable plan and we will give you all the backing you want.

Would Shake Up Administration

I certainly think the people of East Liverpool need to waken up and find out just what's going on.

What's the use of going to the polls to vote when there are a select few who can override what you have voted against?

If my memory is correct, the first time the income tax was defeated we also voted that all money be refunded; that again was never carried out. So what's the use of voting on anything? When work goes slack in the mill or potteries, they have a layoff to cut expenses. When the pay chack is less the housewife must cut corners. So why can't the city cut a few corners?

The population of East Liverpool is less now than it was 10 years ago. Yet we have the largest police force we have ever had in East Liverpool (not counting the Meter Maids who get around $300 a month). Sure, other cities have them, but they also have the money to pay them. Where is all the money going that is taken in on parking meters, parking tickets that run into thousands of dollars, not counting the revenue that is derived from other taxes, such as inheritance tax, gasoline tax, property tax and a lot more?

When you have a wreck, whether it's your fault or not, you still pay a fine. Where's that going? I don't think there is a pottery worker in the city that wouldn't take a steady job year in and year out for $300 a month or more a month. The city crews that work the hardest are the least paid.

I think we need somebody to come in and shake up the whole administration, not only the Water Department that came up with a shortage that was hushed up in a hurry. The income tax hasn't done one bit of good in three or four years. There certainly is something the matter some place.

We need a few more men like Mr. Duffy who will not be afraid to speak up — not just be a yes man. When a group of people attend a meeting, it usually is or the purpose of being able to voice their opinion. But they couldn't even speak. There wasn't time to hear the voice of the people. Council was in too big a hurry to do another cramming job on the people. Yet when it comes time to vote they want the people to take time and vote. What for? Fly the red flag at the City Hall. That's sure what belongs there.

Why Are People's Wishes Ignored?

As I sat in at City Council March 2, I heard, and saw, councilmen sitting back in their chairs looking around and apparently not thinking or trying to realize just what they were asking for.

I had called Mr. Welch before Council meeting on March 1, which I thought he would consider a little before voting yes at this meeting, but he went ahead and voted yes any way. I asked Mr. Welch if he thought the city needed this tax? He said yes. I then asked, What was the total income received for 1961? His reply was, $1,914,126.04. I also asked what was the amount spent by the city. He replied, $1,972,984.47. This amount ran over the money the city received by $58,858.43.

I then asked Mr. Welch how much did Council on their appropriation say was needed for 1961. I never received the answer.

Now Mr. Willshaw has estimated it will take around $1,500,000 for the fiscal year 1962, although he also states that the city will receive around $98,000 less than 1961.

All I ask is for the public to read and do a little head work and figure out why this is happening to us. I quoted figures in the Council meeting, but to no avail. They still passed by a 5-1 vote the income tax. Your vote and mine put these men in office, so why do they refuse to abide by the people's wishes?

Now back to the first of this letter. Each councilman apparently walked into this meeting with one thought: I don't care what, this is what we (council) and the mayor want and this we will have. I am referring to the four who made no move whatsoever to think of the people's wishes. Mr. Duffy and Mr. Murray voted no all the way.

'Little Dictators Do It Again'

I wish to raise my voice loud and clear again that I am against the passing of the city income tax against the wishes of the voters of East Liverpool.

I will repeat that under an amendment to the Constitution, we can demand our right to vote on the tax and Council violates the Constitution by passing the tax without giving the people a chance to vote on the tax.

I will have to say that it has come to dictatorship. I will have to say "The Little Dictators have done it again". If I had a Russian flag, I would send it to them. They sure have earned it.

Your interest or dividends will be subject to withholding taxes of 20% by the Federal Government under bills now proposed to Congress.

This means that churches, synagogues, orphanages, union trust funds, hospitals, all charitable organizations, widows, pensioners and even little children must file complicated tax forms to obtain refunds. Can you imagine the red tape involved in getting a fifty cent tax refund for a two-year-old child!

The aged, blind or indigent earning less than necessary to pay income tax will have to wait months or perhaps a year to get refunds. Meanwhile who buys the groceries while the government keeps their dividend money . . . at NO interest?

Who gains when funds rightfully belonging to United Appeals, local hospital building fund, or Red Cross are delayed by the tax collector?

The cost of such a mountain of paper work could very easily be more than the added revenue to our government.

Remember, this insidious bill is not yet passed but hearings to decide the outcome are being held this week in Washington. ACT NOW BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE !

Worst Storm For Winter Hits Schools

cal School District, including the buildings at Irondale, Hammondsville, and Port Homer, were closed today, Supt. C. P. Henderson said. About 600 pupils were involved.

Hancock County's 8,000 pupils enjoyed a one-day vacation with the announcement this morning by Supt. Robert H. Hall that all buildings were to be closed.

Both the South Side Joint School District near Hookstown and the Western Beaver County School District in Industry and Ohioville canceled classes. They total 2,340 pupils.

Victor Thomas, South Side supervising principal, said some 470 high school and 560 elementary students were out.

Frank A. Meredith, Western Beaver supervising principal, said 960 elementary students in four schools and 350 high school students who attend Midland and Beaver high schools were out.

The parochial school at East Palestine dismissed classes about 9:15 a. m. because of poor attendance and delay in bus arrivals.

Road crews went to work late yesterday afternoon, first spreading cinders. But the storm continued and plows were hooked to the trucks in efforts to keep main highways open.

Road conditions were the worst of the winter, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported this morning, adding that there was not much travel and motorists were being discouraged from using the highways.

Conditions were described as "bad" by officers at the Lisbon post. Many reports of stalled cars and trucks and traffic tieups came into the post earlier this morning, but tapered off later.

During the night, there were traffic jams on hills and curves in the district, such as the Route 7 Rogers hill where some 12 trucks were stuck on the grade around 8 p. m.

Roads remained hazardous. There were numerous traffic tieups on district hills and grades, mainly trucks and big rigs.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia sent out 17 crews at 5 p. m. yesterday. They worked through the night, resting about an hour, then returning to the snow battle at 5 a. m.

There was drifting on secondary roads, which will be the last due for plowing. There was little wind last night but some was reported this morning, which will cause further drifting.

Crews of the Columbiana County Highway Department have been on duty since last night and a spokesman said, "We aren't making much headway."

The crews will continue to cinder and plow the county system of roads, which are reported in "poor shape," but the mid-morning outlook was not encouraging, the aide said.

Lisbon streets were snow-covered and hard packed, and officials said they lacked equipment to cope with the deep drifts. Workers are ashing where possible.

Traffic was stalled on N. Market St. where trucks were skidded sideways during the morning, and a wrecker was being used in an effort to clear the roadway.

The Beaver County division of the Pennsylvania Highway Department at Rochester reported 14 inches of snow and more was falling.

Paul Hurni, assistant superintendent, said road crews were out plowing and ashing and most main roads were passable.

The Beaver County's unit of the State Highway Department at Rochester said about 170 men and 12 pieces of equipment are working on the roads. They began this morning on secondary roads.

The crews are keeping the entrances open to the Beaver County Hospital and Home near Beaver and Annex near Monaca and entrances to toll bridges.

The Beaver County Motor Club (AAA) reported that it is four to five hours behind in calls received for help from motorists. The club was swamped and said some motorists would have to wait all day for help.

Traffic on Route 30 and 22, the Parkway, near Pittsburgh, was moving, the Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police reported, as the Parkway and highway crews plowed during the night.

The Beaver County barracks near Beaver Falls said the state highway crews were out cindering and plowing. Police said no traffic tieups had been reported.

The Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission pressed all its vehicles and employes into service early Monday evening in cindering and scraping highways in Hancock County.

Traffic was moving slowly today over snow-covered stretches of Routes 30 near Chester and Route 22 in Weirton. Both highways were closed last night by the storm.

There were eight trucks out today plowing the primary roads. Wilson said it will be nearly impossible for crews to open secondary roads today.

Traffic was snarled badly last night on Cove Hill Rd. in Weirton, and the Route 30 hill out of Chester. Tractor-trailer rigs had the most difficulty moving up the grades, and when they became disabled in the snow, major tieups occurred.

Wilson said a rig jack-knifed last night on Route 66 between Newell and New Cumberland and still was unable to move this morning.

The Pughtown Garage called for help from district headquarters in Elm Grove last night when Route 22 in Weirton became jammed with trucks and autos. The district headquarters responded with a huge truck equipped with a snowplow.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville said the main highways were passable with chains, but the secondary roads remained closed.

Officers said a few tieups were reported during the night but they were cleared away with the aid of the Jefferson County State Highway Department crews.

Snow plows were out all night. There was a rash of fender-bender accidents. They reported over 10 inches of snow.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the Wellsville streets were in "fairly good" condition about 8 a. m. today. He said the street crews started spreading salt Monday at 6 p. m. and worked through until 2 a. m. today, when they took a rest.

The men returned to the job early this morning and were busy shoveling cross walks and spreading cinders. All streets were salted twice and Cemetery Hill three times, Baldasare said.

Midland police reported the borough's street crews out working on streets early and late this morning. Some cars were reported stalled.

Louis Govey, Chester water works superintendent, said he and two other men worked on Chester streets until midnight, and main streets were passable today.

Govey said the city's jeep plow can not work effectively against the heavy, wet snow. However, traffic was moving on Carolina Ave. and other main streets this morning.

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. had no immediate statistics on the number of employes who did not make it to work. It was believed absenteeism was small, as little difficulty was reported for workers coming from East Liverpool or the other direction, such as Rochester.

Homer Laughlin China Co. in Newell reported more workers absent than normal today, but production continued. Many employes arrived late because of the snow-clogged roads.

At Lisbon, both Common Pleas Courts suspended operations. However, the Seventh District Court of Appeals was in session, hearing several cases. About 75 per cent of Courthouse employes were on the job despite the weather.

Only flurries had been expected yesterday afternoon but forecasts were revised several times as the deep low - pressure system moved across the state.

The first revision said one to 2 inches, this was raised to 4 to 6 then 6 to 8 as the weatherman tried to keep up with the spreading storm.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, said the last 8-inch snow fell March 3, 1960. Previous snows this winter have been only 2 to 3 inches.

Palestine Schools To Consider Closing

EAST PALESTINE — Public schools here remained open today and authorities said attendances was down only slightly.

All the school buses got through without any major difficulty. Substitute teachers had to be summoned when some of the regular instructors were unable to make it to the schools.

School authorities were undecided as to whether or not to dismiss classes.

Elsewhere in the city, a concert scheduled for tonight by the Community Chorus has been cancelled.

A play scheduled for Monday night by the PTO and the Pittsburgh Children's Theater was canceled when the actors became stranded en route from Pittsburgh.

Schools At Midland Remain In Session

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell said Midland public schools would try to operate.

All teachers arrived except one and all of the town students made it. Only the bus students from the outlying district did not report.

Midland Presentation Parochial School was suspended, according to Sister Ermeline, principal. About 447 students attend.

The board also approved tuition payments for two children attending a school for deaf children in Youngstown.

It also agreed to participate in an Ohio School Boards Association project on school finances. Similar to the State House Conference held in recent years, each board will organize a discussion group on school finances and needs.

Asst. Supt. Paul Blair and C. Walter Ashbaugh, board president, reported on the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators they attended last month in Atlantic City.

Soviet

3. Increasing production of chemical fertilizers now in critically short supply.

4. Increasing the farm labor force with city youths, including girls.

The premier warned that the Soviet population, now at 200 million, will reach between 250 and 280 million in the near future.

Failure to increase farm production accordingly will "confront the country with great difficulties and the cause of building communism will be seriously damaged," Khrushchev declared.

The Soviet premier noted complaints from various cities that there is little meat or butter for sale in shops.

"The fact is that we simply do not have enough meat," he said.

we will know how our money will work for us," Supt. Hall said. "If the bids come in too high, we will have to find out where we can cut, as there is only so much money to do the job."

He added the board hopes to award contracts to the successful bidders as soon as possible after the bids are opened. Completion date of the buildings has been set for August 1963.

The board gave informal approval to the specifications last Thursday at the Fort Steuben Hotel in Steubenville, but delayed giving formal approval until a scheduled meeting.

In other brief business, the board approved a tentative calendar for the 1962-63 school term.

Plans call for teachers to report to buildings for the first time Aug. 27, with students reporting to classrooms Sept. 4, the day following Labor Day.

Next term's calendar, following the same lines as the one in effect now, calls for a 180-day school year for pupils and 200 working days for teachers.

Worst Storm For Winter Hits Schools

cal School District, including the buildings at Irondale, Hammondsville, and Port Homer, were closed today, Supt. C. P. Henderson said. About 600 pupils were involved.

Hancock County's 8,000 pupils enjoyed a one-day vacation with the announcement this morning by Supt. Robert H. Hall that all buildings were to be closed.

Both the South Side Joint School District near Hookstown and the Western Beaver County School District in Industry and Ohioville canceled classes. They total 2,340 pupils.

Victor Thomas, South Side supervising principal, said some 470 high school and 560 elementary students were out.

Frank A. Meredith, Western Beaver supervising principal, said 960 elementary students in four schools and 350 high school students who attend Midland and Beaver high schools were out.

The parochial school at East Palestine dismissed classes about 9:15 a. m. because of poor attendance and delay in bus arrivals.

Road crews went to work late yesterday afternoon, first spreading cinders. But the storm continued and plows were hooked to the trucks in efforts to keep main highways open.

Road conditions were the worst of the winter, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported this morning, adding that there was not much travel and motorists were being discouraged from using the highways.

Conditions were described as "bad" by officers at the Lisbon post. Many reports of stalled cars and trucks and traffic tieups came into the post earlier this morning, but tapered off later.

During the night, there were traffic jams on hills and curves in the district, such as the Route 7 Rogers hill where some 12 trucks were stuck on the grade around 8 p. m.

Roads remained hazardous. There were numerous traffic tieups on district hills and grades, mainly trucks and big rigs.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia sent out 17 crews at 5 p. m. yesterday. They worked through the night, resting about an hour, then returning to the snow battle at 5 a. m.

There was drifting on secondary roads, which will be the last due for plowing. There was little wind last night but some was reported this morning, which will cause further drifting.

Crews of the Columbiana County Highway Department have been on duty since last night and a spokesman said, "We aren't making much headway."

The crews will continue to cinder and plow the county system of roads, which are reported in "poor shape," but the mid-morning outlook was not encouraging, the aide said.

Lisbon streets were snow-covered and hard packed, and officials said they lacked equipment to cope with the deep drifts. Workers are ashing where possible.

Traffic was stalled on N. Market St. where trucks were skidded sideways during the morning, and a wrecker was being used in an effort to clear the roadway.

The Beaver County division of the Pennsylvania Highway Department at Rochester reported 14 inches of snow and more was falling.

Paul Hurni, assistant superintendent, said road crews were out plowing and ashing and most main roads were passable.

The Beaver County's unit of the State Highway Department at Rochester said about 170 men and 12 pieces of equipment are working on the roads. They began this morning on secondary roads.

The crews are keeping the entrances open to the Beaver County Hospital and Home near Beaver and Annex near Monaca and entrances to toll bridges.

The Beaver County Motor Club (AAA) reported that it is four to five hours behind in calls received for help from motorists. The club was swamped and said some motorists would have to wait all day for help.

Traffic on Route 30 and 22, the Parkway, near Pittsburgh, was moving, the Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police reported, as the Parkway and highway crews plowed during the night.

The Beaver County barracks near Beaver Falls said the state highway crews were out cindering and plowing. Police said no traffic tieups had been reported.

The Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission pressed all its vehicles and employes into service early Monday evening in cindering and scraping highways in Hancock County.

Traffic was moving slowly today over snow-covered stretches of Routes 30 near Chester and Route 22 in Weirton. Both highways were closed last night by the storm.

There were eight trucks out today plowing the primary roads. Wilson said it will be nearly impossible for crews to open secondary roads today.

Traffic was snarled badly last night on Cove Hill Rd. in Weirton and the Route 30 hill out of Chester. Tractor-trailer rigs had the most difficulty moving up the grades, and when they became disabled in the snow, major tieups occurred.

Wilson said a rig jack-knifed last night on Route 66 between Newell and New Cumberland and still was unable to move this morning.

The Pughtown Garage called for help from district headquarters in Elm Grove last night when Route 22 in Weirton became jammed with trucks and autos. The district headquarters responded with a huge truck equipped with a snowplow.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville said the main highways were passable with chains, but the secondary roads remained closed.

Officers said a few tieups were reported during the night but they were cleared away with the aid of the Jefferson County State Highway Department crews.

Snow plows were out all night. There was a rash of fender-bender accidents. They reported over 10 inches of snow.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the Wellsville streets were in "fairly good" condition about 8 a. m. today. He said the street crews started spreading salt Monday at 6 p. m. and worked through until 2 a. m. today, when they took a rest.

The men returned to the job early this morning and were busy shoveling cross walks and spreading cinders. All streets were salted twice and Cemetery Hill three times, Baldasare said.

Midland police reported the borough's street crews out working on streets early and late this morning. Some cars were reported stalled.

Louis Govey, Chester water works superintendent, said he and two other men worked on Chester streets until midnight, and main streets were passable today.

Govey said the city's jeep plow can not work effectively against the heavy, wet snow. However, traffic was moving on Carolina Ave. and other main streets this morning.

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. had no immediate statistics on the number of employes who did not make it to work. It was believed absenteeism was small, as little difficulty was reported for workers coming from East Liverpool or the other direction, such as Rochester.

Homer Laughlin China Co. in Newell reported more workers absent than normal today, but production continued. Many employes arrived late because of the snow-clogged roads.

At Lisbon, both Common Pleas Courts suspended operations. However, the Seventh District Court of Appeals was in session, hearing several cases. About 75 per cent of Courthouse employes were on the job despite the weather.

Only flurries had been expected yesterday afternoon but forecasts were revised several times as the deep low - pressure system moved across the state.

The first revision said one to 2 inches, this was raised to 4 to 6 then 6 to 8 as the weatherman tried to keep up with the spreading storm.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, said the last 8-inch snow fell March 3, 1960. Previous snows this winter have been only 2 to 3 inches.

Palestine Schools To Consider Closing

EAST PALESTINE — Public schools here remained open today and authorities said attendances was down only slightly.

All the school buses got through without any major difficulty. Substitute teachers had to be summoned when some of the regular instructors were unable to make it to the schools.

School authorities were undecided as to whether or not to dismiss classes.

Elsewhere in the city, a concert scheduled for tonight by the Community Chorus has been cancelled.

A play scheduled for Monday night by the PTO and the Pittsburgh Children's Theater was canceled when the actors became stranded en route from Pittsburgh.

Schools At Midland Remain In Session

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell said Midland public schools would try to operate.

All teachers arrived except one and all of the town students made it. Only the bus students from the outlying district did not report.

Midland Presentation Parochial School was suspended, according to Sister Ermeline, principal. About 447 students attend.

Asst. Supt. Paul Blair and C. Walter Ashbaugh, board president, reported on the annual meeting of the American Association of School Administrators they attended last month in Atlantic City.

3. Increasing production of chemical fertilizers now in critically short supply.

4. Increasing the farm labor force with city youths, including girls.

The premier warned that the Soviet population, now at 200 million, will reach between 250 and 280 million in the near future.

Failure to increase farm production accordingly will "confront the country with great difficulties and the cause of building communism will be seriously damaged," Khrushchev declared.

The Soviet premier noted complaints from various cities that there is little meat or butter for sale in shops.

"The fact is that we simply do not have enough meat," he said.

Bringing Up A Family

Warn Child Of Electrical Hazards

When children make kites and fly them they acquire good educational experiences. It's wonderful when they can share these experiences with their parents and other children; also when they read of kite-making and kite - flying in other countries of the world. Unfortunately, most children in urban areas can't easily find good places for flying kites safely because there are so many wires and power lines. When a child finds his kite tangled in wires he is tempted to climb to rescue it. In doing so, he may touch or make bodily connection with highly charged wires. Even an adult with him may expose himself to such danger.

Dr. Garry Meyers

LET US, BY precept and example, prevail on the child never to try to rescue his kite from wires but to report his trouble to the police or the power company or to an electrician.

Some kite strings are on the market with wire in the center of them to give them strength. Such a kite string can be hazardous, as you can see, if it touches a charged wire while being pulled from one end by a person.

Children eager to explore may, when not properly warned or protected, climb poles and towers leading to highly charged power lines. Or while trying to rescue a ball or some other object they may not only climb so as to touch wires but may try to reach the object with a pole, rake or lassoing rope.

Too, some children may suddenly come upon a fallen wire or cable and proceed to examine it with their hands.

ABOUT RURAL homes, too, there may be electric fences only slightly charged in dry times or places. But if one of these fences crossed a brook and some children decided to wade in the water near it or build a dam beside it, they could be electrocuted while touching the fence.

The same principle of multiplied electric force might operate then as if one pulled on a poorly insulated electric light cord while in a tub of water.

Being vigilant about such dangers to our children, and warning and protecting them against these dangers, we may be able to get over to them many useful rules for their observing safety with all electrical materials to which they might become exposed.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a private-duty nurse who wishes to set the record straight.

One hears a great deal about the high cost of private nursing and how some nurses refuse to work on holidays unless they can wangle exorbitant fees. Well, here's the reason I'll never work another Easter, Christmas or New Year's Day.

I'm in my middle 40s and have been in the nursing profession for more than 20 years. I've worked every major holiday since 1943. I can remember only two families who said "thank you" for sacrificing my holiday to care for one of their sick ones.

I don't expect the patient to say anything. Often he is too ill or too confused to know it's a special day. But the families know.

The final straw was a recent case when the family sat down to their Christmas dinner and gave me a tray in the patient's room. This same family had the nerve to tell me I was expected to work Easter Sunday because out-of-town guests were expected and they had to entertain. When I refused I was dismissed.

Dear Hard Way: It's incredible that you managed to draw such a high percentage of lemons.

I hold no brief for these thoughtless individuals but I hope you won't turn sour on the whole human race because you've had such unbelievably poor luck.

Crowded House

Dear Ann: My husband's older sister is ruining our marriage. What can I do?

Bob's mother died three years ago when we were newlyweds. She left her lovely home to Bob with the provision that his older sister should be allowed to live in it also until she marries.

Bob is 28. His sister is 30. She never has worked. No one even would hire her, not even as a domestic, because she's incapable of doing anything. She has a generous monthly income from her mother's estate but squanders it on clothes and men.

She smokes constantly, talks on the phone endlessly, sleeps till noon and lives like a free boarder. She's forever butting into our affairs and making trouble between Bob and me.

We have no children because our marriage has been on such shaky ground I'm afraid to start a family. What do you suggest—or is it too late? — GULLET FULL.

Dear Gullet: Your husband should sell the house and split the proceeds with his sister. You and Bob must have a place of your own — and soon, or there will be no marriage left to save.

One O'Clock Soldier

Dear Ann: I'm in Dutch and I need your help. I'm a 15-year-old girl who gets fairly good grades and behaves like a lady. Compared with some of the kids in my class at school, you might say I'm an angel.

Last night I went to a basketball game with three other girls. One of the girls had her mother's car. She is a careful driver. Before I left Mom yelled, "Be home at a reasonable time."

Well, we went for a snack after the game and met a whole gang of kids. We were having such a good time no one paid much attention to the clock. When I got home it was 1:15 a.m. and my mother was half cuckoo. Now I'm grounded for one month.

I say I deserve another chance because I don't think 1:15 is such a terrible hour. What do you say? — CLIPPED WINGS.

Dear Clipped: I feel you are entitled to another chance. The words "reasonable hour" can mean anything, depending on who is doing the interpreting. Your mother should have set a definite curfew and left no room for guessing. (And, incidentally, 1:15 is not my idea of "reasonable" for a 15-year-old, Toots.)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Snow Crash Hurts Driver

A Pittsburgh motorist was injured in a snowstorm crash on Route 30 near Imperial Monday night about 7:40 when he tried to avoid a stalled semi - trailer driven by an East Liverpool R. D. 2 motorist, and hit the truck's rear dual wheels.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said Larry Smith Lynn, 18, of Pittsburgh saw the lights of the rig but could not determine at first whether it was moving or stopped. The rig, stalled on a hill about a mile west of Imperial, was driven by David Lee Hoppel, 21, of East Liverpool R. D. 2, police said.

Lynn swerved to avoid the truck, when he realized it was not moving, but his vehicle caught the truck's dual wheels.

There was $300 damage to the truck and about $400 to Lynn's vehicle. Lynn was taken to the Ohio Valley Hospital at McKees Rocks with a laceration of his chin, right side of his face and a possible injury to his cheek bone.

Sonic Booms Of Jets Bring 'Blast' Fears

The sound of loud "explosions" rolled across the Tri-State District early Monday afternoon, prompting dozens of telephone calls to law enforcement agencies, but they were sonic booms made by two jet planes which cracked the sound barrier while on a coast-to-coast flight.

The first loud "blast" was heard at 1:20 p. m. and another came at 1:56. Telephone calls to police departments and to The Review switchboards asked about "explosions" in widely-separated sections of the area.

Investigation disclosed that two jet planes were on a flight from Los Angeles to New York, scheduled to pass over the Tri-State Area in early afternoon.

Two of the 1,300-mile-an-hour planes made the race east, but one dropped out in the Midwest on the return leg. The city had three distinct booms with the fourth heard only faintly. The sonic corridor was 40 miles wide and the planes passed over the Tri-State area at about 55,000 feet altitude.

William Gaskill, 307 Grant St., was one of the first to report the sounds. He said the blast shook his home and the adjoining house occupied by Richard Swank.

"Explosions" were reported variously in East End and other parts of East Liverpool as well as in Chester and Newell neighborhoods.

About two years ago a military jet's race against time also set off sonic booms that caused reports of blasts in many sections of the district.

We have no children because our marriage has been on such shaky ground I'm afraid to start a family. What do you suggest—or is it too late? — GULLET FULL.

Dear Gullet: Your husband should sell the house and split the proceeds with his sister. You and Bob must have a place of your own — and soon, or there will be no marriage left to save.

One O'Clock Soldier

Dear Ann: I'm in Dutch and I need your help. I'm a 15-year-old girl who gets fairly good grades and behaves like a lady. Compared with some of the kids in my class at school, you might say I'm an angel.

Last night I went to a basketball game with three other girls. One of the girls had her mother's car. She is a careful driver. Before I left Mom yelled, "Be home at a reasonable time."

Well, we went for a snack after the game and met a whole gang of kids. We were having such a good time no one paid much attention to the clock. When I got home it was 1:15 a.m. and my mother was half cuckoo. Now I'm grounded for one month.

I say I deserve another chance because I don't think 1:15 is such a terrible hour. What do you say? — CLIPPED WINGS.

Dear Clipped: I feel you are entitled to another chance. The words "reasonable hour" can mean anything, depending on who is doing the interpreting. Your mother should have set a definite curfew and left no room for guessing. (And, incidentally, 1:15 is not my idea of "reasonable" for a 15-year-old, Toots.)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Snow Crash Hurts Driver

A Pittsburgh motorist was injured in a snowstorm crash on Route 30 near Imperial Monday night about 7:40 when he tried to avoid a stalled semi - trailer driven by an East Liverpool R. D. 2 motorist, and hit the truck's rear dual wheels.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said Larry Smith Lynn, 18, of Pittsburgh saw the lights of the rig but could not determine at first whether it was moving or stopped. The rig, stalled on a hill about a mile west of Imperial, was driven by David Lee Hoppel, 21, of East Liverpool R. D. 2, police said.

Lynn swerved to avoid the truck, when he realized it was not moving, but his vehicle caught the truck's dual wheels.

There was $300 damage to the truck and about $400 to Lynn's vehicle. Lynn was taken to the Ohio Valley Hospital at McKees Rocks with a laceration of his chin, right side of his face and a possible injury to his cheek bone.

Sonic Booms Of Jets Bring 'Blast' Fears

The sound of loud "explosions" rolled across the Tri-State District early Monday afternoon, prompting dozens of telephone calls to law enforcement agencies, but they were sonic booms made by two jet planes which cracked the sound barrier while on a coast-to-coast flight.

The first loud "blast" was heard at 1:20 p. m. and another came at 1:56. Telephone calls to police departments and to The Review switchboards asked about "explosions" in widely-separated sections of the area.

Investigation disclosed that two jet planes were on a flight from Los Angeles to New York, scheduled to pass over the Tri-State Area in early afternoon.

Two of the 1,300-mile-an-hour planes made the race east, but one dropped out in the Midwest on the return leg. The city had three distinct booms with the fourth heard only faintly. The sonic corridor was 40 miles wide and the planes passed over the Tri-State area at about 55,000 feet altitude.

William Gaskill, 307 Grant St., was one of the first to report the sounds. He said the blast shook his home and the adjoining house occupied by Richard Swank.

"Explosions" were reported variously in East End and other parts of East Liverpool as well as in Chester and Newell neighborhoods.

About two years ago a military jet's race against time also set off sonic booms that caused reports of blasts in many sections of the district.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Bardot—American Style

It used to be that little girls were made of sugar and spice and everything nice. But in this, the era of reducers and setting-up exercises, the sugars and spices are out, leaving us with the everything nice to cuddle up with. That's all right with me.

Alan Gill

She is, I'd say, 90 per cent everything nice, 10 per cent bubble gum. Her hair is blonde. Her eyes are blue. Her 115 pounds are distributed over her 5-foot-5 frame with, uh, loving care.

-:-

MISS DRAKE, as if you didn't know, is that girl on your television screen who has you lying on your back and pretending to peddle a bicycle when you should be brushing your teeth. She's also the author of an exercise column and a book, "Debbie Drake's Easy Way to a Perfect Figure and Glowing Health," which is going into a third printing.

Last week, I grunted up the few steps to a photographer's chilly studio and watched this dream of a girl, clad in a smashingly pink outfit, and striking some dismayingly impossible poses.

THEN, wriggling into a fur coat alongside me, she answered the questions I wheezed out:

"Ah was bone" — and that's the last of the exaggerated dialect you'll get — "in Dallas, Tex. I live now in Indianapolis, where they film my television shows.

"I put in a full day, believe me, because I suppose that's the way I am. I always ran, never walked. I like to entertain before women's club's but not men's groups. The men tend to get fresh. I'm taking singing lessons to improve my speech.

"I was a string bean of a thing until about 19, when I got chubby. Every girl has a figure problem and mine was and still is my thighs. I have to work on them. I hate heavy thighs, don't you?

"I DON'T HAVE any bad habits, though I'm thinking of buying a pipe. It has such a nice flavor.

"Southern girls and Western girls, I think, have the best figures. But American women in general are taking good care of themselves. Exercise, which used to be something we were all shy about, is done out in the open now.

"Children are crazy about it. Why, down home, even my aunt's dog gets into the act. Whenever my aunt oversleeps on the mornings my program is on, the dog goes in and pulls her out of bed and over to the TV set.

"I don't think paunchy men or overdeveloped men are the least bit attractive. Tony Curtis and Rock Hudson have the nicest kind of build. Men, the lucky things, get muscles with normal exercise; women get muscles, too, and that's bad. So a woman's exercises have to be chosen intelligently. Each girl has her own problems."

I ASKED Miss Drake about the problems Jayne Mansfield, Elizabeth Taylor, Audrey Hepburn and Brigitte Bardot might have.

"Jayne Mansfield," she said, "is a type. She's voluptuous. Having wide hips, she doesn't have to worry too much about the waistline, which, unless she's really let herself go, looks trim enough.

"Elizabeth Taylor has a tummy problem. She should exercise more to get rid of that football. But with the bosom she has, I don't suppose anybody cares.

"Audrey Hepburn could put on a little weight without any harm and go to work on that chest a bit.

"Brigitte Bardot is perfect for her type. She has small hips. And I'm sure that, between the periods and big dinners, she exercises a good deal. She couldn't stand any more weight and neither could I.

"I have narrow hips like hers and have to really concentrate on my tummy and thighs. Mr. Gill, I was saying I have narrow —"

State Official Slates Probe In Brush Fire

An official from New Philadelphia will be asked to investigate the cause of a fire which burned off 20 acres of brushland in the Beaver Creek area Sunday afternoon.

Homer Cronin of LaCroft, deputy forest fire warden, said he will call in Robert McIntosh, district fire warden, to investigate suspicions that the blaze was ignited deliberately.

The fire burned off 20 acres of brush and grass in an isolated section along Beaver Creek, about a quarter-mile from the Pennsylvania state line.

Cronin and his family, who were en route to their cabin in the Beaver Creek area, noticed the smoke and spent two hours battling the flames. No homes were endangered.

The LaCroft fire warden reminded area residents that permits are required during the spring fire season, which opened March 1 and continues through May.

The permits, which are free, are required for any outdoor burning, Cronin reminded. They may be obtained from area fire wardens and at fire departments.

Meanwhile, volunteer firemen from Newell and Glenmoor also were called to extinguish grass fires over the weekend.

A dropped cigarette or match was blamed for a grass fire at the home of James Ryan in the Tomlinson Run State Park area in Hancock County Saturday at 3:45 p. m. The property is owned by Clarence Deeds of 1st St., Newell.

Newell firemen said Ryan was cleaning his auto and apparently dropped a match or cigarette. The flames ignited the grass and brush and caused minor damage to the car. Firemen said Ryan was nearly overcome by smoke and his trousers and jacket were burned in his efforts to quell the flames. Ten from Newell and 25 from New Cumberland responded to the alarm.

Firemen also were called Sunday afternoon at 3 to extinguish a grass fire at the home of George Cawthon along Route 66. Cawthon was burning trash in an outdoor incinerator and the sparks ignited grass and brush, firemen said. Seven men answered the call.

Beechwood Man Lectured, Then Fined $100, Sentenced

A Beechwood man received a scathing denunciation from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff before being fined a total of $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail after pleading guilty to two charges Monday afternoon.

Ronald Davis of Haywood St. was fined $50 and costs and given the jail term on a charge of malicious destruction of property and drew an additional penalty of $50 and costs on an intoxication count.

Davis was arrested Friday night in the Green Mill on Dresden Ave. after the proprietor, James Arkadiou, notified police Davis had rammed his fist through a glass in the door.

Davis admitted breaking the glass but told the judge he followed two friends out of the tavern. When he put his arm out, the door struck it and the glass shattered.

"Didn't you break an empty fishbowl before that?" Judge Chertoff asked. You're no stranger to this court. Your story is hard to believe.

"Your actions are not only detrimental to the city but to yourself. You are headed for the penitentiary as sure as you are standing in front of me.

"The court has tried to help you but you don't want any help. The short stretches in the county jail haven't sunk in.

"For the protection of the people of East Liverpool, something has to be done. You are plain no good. You have no regard for other people's property — or for other people period."

After the judge had handed down the fines and jail term, Davis asked him if one penalty could be suspended and he be placed on the "black list." He apparently was referring to a list of chronic drinkers which the court drew up sometime ago under an ancient statute and notified tavern operators not to sell them liquor.

West Virginians Must Write For Special License

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginians wanting to keep their special auto license plate numbers for another year will have to write in and ask for them, Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack Nuckols said Monday.

This will represent a departure from recent years. The Motor Vehicles Department has on other occasions sent notices to the special number holders reminding them of a deadline for submitting their applications.

"The law just says that we are to charge $5 for a special number," Nuckols said. "I don't think it is incumbent upon this office to send out notices and, in effect, beg people to come in."

The department has made an exception by sending notices to members of the Legislature who may obtain 1962-63 auto tags bearing their initials and to ham radio operators who may display their call letters.

"If holders of special numbers want to keep them," Nuckols said, "we'll send a reservation card in return for a note from them and payment of $5. But they will have to make their desire known before April 15."

After that date, numbers not requested will be made available to others on a first-come-first-serve basis. So far, Nuckols said, about 750 special number applications for the license year to begin July 1 have been received. Special number sales totaled 3,781 last year.

Rudy F. Wilk is president of the Civil Service Commission. The other members are L. B. Kochert and E. M. Welch.

City Resident Denies Steubenville Charge

Raymond Richards, 32, of 938 Princeton Ave. pleaded innocent Monday in Steubenville Municipal Court to a charge of assault and battery upon a 20-year-old girl last Thursday on N. 4th St. in Steubenville.

Judge Lawrence M. Sedgwick set Friday, March 16, at 10 a. m. as a hearing. Richards was arrested after allegedly molesting the woman in an alleyway in the business district. Police said Richards was chased and apprehended by Robert Prolago, of Steubenville.

West Virginia Legislator Dies Of Heart Attack

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Nell W. Walker, the senior member of the West Virginia House of Delegates in years of service, died here last night at the home of her brother, Dr. W. W. Walker.

Mrs. Walker served 12 two-year terms in the House and announced at the end of the recent 1962 session that she would not be a candidate for re-election.

A Democrat, she was first elected from Fayette County in 1936. She served continuously since then with the exception of 1956-58 when she did not run. She spent the two-year interval as state banking commissioner under former Gov. William C. Marland.

A Winona, W. Va., resident, she was for many years an official of the Winona National Bank, no longer in operation. She was the widow of a physician.

Death was attributed to an apparent heart attack. The body was to be returned to Charleston. A funeral service tentatively is set for Saturday at Winona.

City's Seniors To Learn Facts About Communism

A course to teach East Liverpool High School seniors factual information about communism, along with a text, were approved unanimously Monday night by the Board of Education.

In recommending the adoption of the text, "This Is Communism," Supt. Ralph W. Betts emphasized the course will not teach communism but will teach pupils about communism.

The course, which will last about a month, will be introduced near the end of the present term in American government and economics classes, thus reaching all seniors.

Betts pointed out the present state law forbids teaching other ideologies until students have studied American history, American government and some other basic requirements.

The state law is the matter of considerable controversy at present but city schools meet the law as it now stands, the superintendent told the board.

The idea behind the course is to teach the students greater appreciation for what we have by giving them an opportunity to learn facts about communism.

Many texts were studied before a decision was reached to recommend the book authorized by David E. Weingast, assistant superintendent in charge of secondary education in Newark, N. J. Subtitled "The Communist Conspiracy in the United States and the World," it is published by the Oxford Book Co. of New York.

The 10 chapters include "The Trouble With the World," "Communism: Opiate of the People," "Paradise and Purgatory," "Life and Death In a Police State," "Keeping In Step," "The Communist Front and What's Behind It," "The Fine Art of Communist Propaganda," "Red Journeymen and Fellow Travelers," "People's Democracies: The New Colonialism," and "A Strategy for Free Men."

Board members had been furnished a copy of the text for study and the five members agreed the text was well-written. However, James Lowe warned the subject must be treated carefully and suggested the title should be "The Evils of Communism." He drew agreement from James Moss.

By ALAN GILL

Bardot–American Style

It used to be that little girls were made of sugar and spice and everything nice. But in this, the era of reducers and setting-up exercises, the sugars and spices are out, leaving us with the everything nice to cuddle up with. That's all right with me.

Alan Gill

She is, I'd say, 90 per cent everything nice, 10 per cent bubble gum. Her hair is blonde. Her eyes are blue. Her 115 pounds are distributed over her 5-foot-5 frame with, uh, loving care.

-:-

MISS DRAKE, as if you didn't know, is that girl on your television screen who has you lying on your back and pretending to peddle a bicycle when you should be brushing your teeth. She's also the author of an exercise column and a book, "Debbie Drake's Easy Way to a Perfect Figure and Glowing Health," which is going into a third printing.

Last week, I grunted up the few steps to a photographer's chilly studio and watched this dream of a girl, clad in a smashingly pink outfit, and striking some dismayingly impossible poses.

THEN, wriggling into a fur coat alongside me, she answered the questions I wheezed out:

"Ah was bone" — and that's the last of the exaggerated dialect you'll get — "in Dallas, Tex. I live now in Indianapolis, where they film my television shows.

"I put in a full day, believe me, because I suppose that's the way I am. I always ran, never walked. I like to entertain before women's club's but not men's groups. The men tend to get fresh. I'm taking singing lessons to improve my speech.

"I was a string bean of a thing until about 19, when I got chubby. Every girl has a figure problem and mine was and still is my thighs. I have to work on them. I hate heavy thighs, don't you?

"I DON'T HAVE any bad habits, though I'm thinking of buying a pipe. It has such a nice flavor.

"Southern girls and Western girls, I think, have the best figures. But American women in general are taking good care of themselves. Exercise, which used to be something we were all shy about, is done out in the open now.

"Children are crazy about it. Why, down home, even my aunt's dog gets into the act. Whenever my aunt oversleeps on the mornings my program is on, the dog goes in and pulls her out of bed and over to the TV set.

"I don't think paunchy men or overdeveloped men are the least bit attractive. Tony Curtis and Rock Hudson have the nicest kind of build. Men, the lucky things, get muscles with normal exercise; women get muscles, too, and that's bad. So a woman's exercises have to be chosen intelligently. Each girl has her own problems."

I ASKED Miss Drake about the problems Jayne Mansfield, Elizabeth Taylor, Audrey Hepburn and Brigitte Bardot might have.

"Jayne Mansfield," she said, "is a type. She's voluptuous. Having wide hips, she doesn't have to worry too much about the waistline, which, unless she's really let herself go, looks trim enough.

"Elizabeth Taylor has a tummy problem. She should exercise more to get rid of that football. But with the bosom she has, I don't suppose anybody cares.

"Audrey Hepburn could put on a little weight without any harm and go to work on that chest a bit.

"Brigitte Bardot is perfect for her type. She has small hips. And I'm sure that, between the periods and big dinners, she exercises a good deal. She couldn't stand any more weight and neither could I.

"I have narrow hips like hers and have to really concentrate on my tummy and thighs. Mr. Gill, I was saying I have narrow —"

State Official Slates Probe In Brush Fire

An official from New Philadelphia will be asked to investigate the cause of a fire which burned off 20 acres of brushland in the Beaver Creek area Sunday afternoon.

Homer Cronin of LaCroft, deputy forest fire warden, said he will call in Robert McIntosh, district fire warden, to investigate suspicions that the blaze was ignited deliberately.

The fire burned off 20 acres of brush and grass in an isolated section along Beaver Creek, about a quarter-mile from the Pennsylvania state line.

Cronin and his family, who were en route to their cabin in the Beaver Creek area, noticed the smoke and spent two hours battling the flames. No homes were endangered.

The LaCroft fire warden reminded area residents that permits are required during the spring fire season, which opened March 1 and continues through May.

The permits, which are free, are required for any outdoor burning, Cronin reminded. They may be obtained from area fire wardens and at fire departments.

Meanwhile, volunteer firemen from Newell and Glenmoor also were called to extinguish grass fires over the weekend.

A dropped cigarette or match was blamed for a grass fire at the home of James Ryan in the Tomlinson Run State Park area in Hancock County Saturday at 3:45 p. m. The property is owned by Clarence Deeds of 1st St., Newell.

Newell firemen said Ryan was cleaning his auto and apparently dropped a match or cigarette. The flames ignited the grass and brush and caused minor damage to the car. Firemen said Ryan was nearly overcome by smoke and his trousers and jacket were burned in his efforts to quell the flames. Ten from Newell and 25 from New Cumberland responded to the alarm.

Firemen also were called Sunday afternoon at 3 to extinguish a grass fire at the home of George Cawthon along Route 66. Cawthon was burning trash in an outdoor incinerator and the sparks ignited grass and brush, firemen said. Seven men answered the call.

Beechwood Man Lectured, Then Fined $100, Sentenced

A Beechwood man received a scathing denunciation from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff before being fined a total of $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail after pleading guilty to two charges Monday afternoon.

Ronald Davis of Haywood St. was fined $50 and costs and given the jail term on a charge of malicious destruction of property and drew an additional penalty of $50 and costs on an intoxication count.

Davis was arrested Friday night in the Green Mill on Dresden Ave. after the proprietor, James Arkadiou, notified police Davis had rammed his fist through a glass in the door.

Davis admitted breaking the glass but told the judge he followed two friends out of the tavern. When he put his arm out, the door struck it and the glass shattered.

"Didn't you break an empty fishbowl before that?" Judge Chertoff asked. You're no stranger to this court. Your story is hard to believe.

"Your actions are not only detrimental to the city but to yourself. You are headed for the penitentiary as sure as you are standing in front of me.

"The court has tried to help you but you don't want any help. The short stretches in the county jail haven't sunk in.

"For the protection of the people of East Liverpool, something has to be done. You are plain no good. You have no regard for other people's property — or for other people period."

After the judge had handed down the fines and jail term, Davis asked him if one penalty could be suspended and he be placed on the "black list." He apparently was referring to a list of chronic drinkers which the court drew up sometime ago under an ancient statute and notified tavern operators not to sell them liquor.

West Virginians Must Write For Special License

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginians wanting to keep their special auto license plate numbers for another year will have to write in and ask for them, Motor Vehicles Commissioner Jack Nuckols said Monday.

This will represent a departure from recent years. The Motor Vehicles Department has on other occasions sent notices to the special number holders reminding them of a deadline for submitting their applications.

"The law just says that we are to charge $5 for a special number," Nuckols said. "I don't think it is incumbent upon this office to send out notices and, in effect, beg people to come in."

The department has made an exception by sending notices to members of the Legislature who may obtain 1962-63 auto tags bearing their initials and to ham radio operators who may display their call letters.

"If holders of special numbers want to keep them," Nuckols said, "we'll send a reservation card in return for a note from them and payment of $5. But they will have to make their desire known before April 15."

After that date, numbers not requested will be made available to others on a first-come-first-serve basis. So far, Nuckols said, about 750 special number applications for the license year to begin July 1 have been received. Special number sales totaled 3,781 last year.

Sanitary Officer Test Slated For Wellsville

The Wellsville Civil Service Commission will hold an examination Monday, April 2, at 8 p. m. for the position of city sanitation officer.

The exam will be given in the Council Chamber at City Hall, according to John H. Grafton, clerk. The vacancy was created by the death of O. B. Kessel.

Applications may be obtained from Grafton, 410 15th St. The deadline for filing is Wednesday, March 18. A $1 fee must accompany the application.

Rudy F. Wilk is president of the Civil Service Commission. The other members are L. B. Kochert and E. M. Welch.

City Resident Denies Steubenville Charge

Raymond Richards, 32, of 938 Princeton Ave. pleaded innocent Monday in Steubenville Municipal Court to a charge of assault and battery upon a 20-year-old girl last Thursday on N. 4th St. in Steubenville.

Judge Lawrence M. Sedgwick set Friday, March 16, at 10 a. m. as a hearing. Richards was arrested after allegedly molesting the woman in an alleyway in the business district. Police said Richards was chased and apprehended by Robert Prolago, of Steubenville.

West Virginia Legislator Dies Of Heart Attack

Mrs. Walker served 12 two-year terms in the House and announced at the end of the recent 1962 session that she would not be a candidate for re-election.

A Democrat, she was first elected from Fayette County in 1936. She served continuously since then with the exception of 1956-58 when she did not run. She spent the two-year interval as state banking commissioner under former Gov. William C. Marland.

A Winona, W. Va., resident, she was for many years an official of the Winona National Bank, no longer in operation. She was the widow of a physician.

Death was attributed to an apparent heart attack. The body was to be returned to Charleston. A funeral service tentatively is set for Saturday at Winona.

City's Seniors To Learn Facts About Communism

A course to teach East Liverpool High School seniors factual information about communism, along with a text, were approved unanimously Monday night by the Board of Education.

In recommending the adoption of the text, "This Is Communism," Supt. Ralph W. Betts emphasized the course will not teach communism but will teach pupils about communism.

The course, which will last about a month, will be introduced near the end of the present term in American government and economics classes, thus reaching all seniors.

Betts pointed out the present state law forbids teaching other ideologies until students have studied American history, American government and some other basic requirements.

The state law is the matter of considerable controversy at present but city schools meet the law as it now stands, the superintendent told the board.

The idea behind the course is to teach the students greater appreciation for what we have by giving them an opportunity to learn facts about communism.

Many texts were studied before a decision was reached to recommend the book authorized by David E. Weingast, assistant superintendent in charge of secondary education in Newark, N. J. Subtitled "The Communist Conspiracy in the United States and the World," it is published by the Oxford Book Co. of New York.

The 10 chapters include "The Trouble With the World," "Communism: Opiate of the People," "Paradise and Purgatory," "Life and Death In a Police State," "Keeping In Step," "The Communist Front and What's Behind It," "The Fine Art of Communist Propaganda," "Red Journeymen and Fellow Travelers," "People's Democracies: The New Colonialism," and "A Strategy for Free Men."

Board members had been furnished a copy of the text for study and the five members agreed the text was well-written. However, James Lowe warned the subject must be treated carefully and suggested the title should be "The Evils of Communism." He drew agreement from James Moss.

Hutchinson On Spot As Freese Breaks Ankle In Slide

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

3-Time Champion . . .

Take any year out of the last 10, look at the state wrestling results and you'll find the name of Hoppel listed somewhere in the top four spots.

When Carl Hoppel wrapped up his third state wrestling title Saturday night at St. John's arena in Columbus, it marked the end of a reign in Ohio mat circles by one family which we doubt has been equaled anywhere in the United States.

For a decade now the Hoppels have been defeating about everyone they ran into on the wrestling mats.

It all started in 1953 when Herm Hoppel served as the lead-off man in the wrestling dynasty.

Herm wrestled for East Liverpool High School under Lou Venditti before Beaver Local High existed. He finished second his senior year in 1953 and the string was started.

In 1954 along came Darryl, who won the title in 1954. Probably 1955 will go down as the most memorable year for the Hoppels, when both Jim and Darryl captured state titles for East Liverpool.

Jim dropped to a third-place finish in 1956, while another brother, Dave, who was a sophomore then, took second. While Dave never won a state title, he finished second again in 1957 and fourth in 1958.

After that, it was all Carl, who became the new champion of the family. In 1959, when the District wrestling tournament was held at East Liverpool, Carl, who lost only two matches in 99 starts during the high school career, was defeated in the finals by Frank Cunningham of Bridgeport.

Since two wrestlers qualified in each division, Hoppel was afforded a chance to go to the state meet and also to avenge the loss to Cunningham. He did, in the state finals. Carl pinned Cunningham and became the first freshman ever to win a state mat championship.

Although he slipped to third the following year, he bounced back to win two consecutive titles. We offer our congratulations to Carl, a three-time champion.

While Carl is the last of the immediate family of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hoppel of the Calcutta-Smith's Ferry Rd., he has a cousin, Joe Hoppel, who is wrestling on an eighth-grade team.

Jack O'Rourke, who has been Carl's coach during his high school career, calls his star "the best I have ever seen; I sure hate to lose him."

A Little Bad Luck . . .

A LITTLE bad luck hit one of two former East Liverpool wrestlers as they were shooting for championships in the Mid-American conference tournament last weekend at Toledo University.

Bill Pierson, Kent State's 138-pounder, finished runnerup in his class after being pinned in the finals. He was forced to go all out in a semi-final match and was pretty well spent when the championship bout rolled around.

Don Seibert, who wrestles for Ohio University, was hit by sickness, but took to the mat any way, only to lose a 3-2 decision, his first defeat in conference competition.

Seibert, who started the season as a 138-pound wrestler, was asked by his coach to drop to 127 for the Mid - American tourney. After losing 3-2, he was taken to a Toledo hospital.

Attempting to lose weight all last week to make the 127-pound weight, Seibert was dehydrated and vomitted for over a 12-hour period Friday and Saturday.

It was recommended that he refrain from further competition this year, which means he will miss the 4-I championships at Cleveland next where he had been invited on the basis of his undefeated record in the Mid-American conference.

Also, if he had been permitted to wrestle his 138 weight, Seibert had pinned the wrestler who won the division earlier in the season.

A victory in the Mid-American tourney would have qualified him for the NCAA championships later this month at the University of Oklahoma.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

WHILE Don Spires of Stanton Local was tossing in 27 points to lead his team past Lakeland and into the District tournament, Kermit Blosser, who is on the coaching staff at Ohio University, was seated in the stands.

Blosser was quite impressed with Spires and the Athens school has had its eye on the 6-foot-7 pivot man for sometime. We understand Spires would like to enroll there.

Ted Thorne, Salem's pivot star, is reported to be headed for Ohio U., too.

Colorado Pulls Upset, Looks For NCAA Bid

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

In-and-out Colorado is in again —in solid control of the Big Eight basketball chase, that is.

The Buffaloes, getting a big assist from Oklahoma State, have regained the conference lead and are now only one step away from the NCAA tourney, a berth they apparently had lost for good in a defeat by potent Kansas State last week.

But Oklahoma State found the third-ranking Wildcats looking the other way Monday night and registered a 78-68 upset, the first time the Cowboys had beaten Kansas State in 19 games.

It dropped Kansas State into second place in the conference with an 11-2 mark. Colorado, which took Missouri 73-64, is now 12-1. Each has one game left. Kansas State must beat Nebraska Wednesday to retain a chance for a tie while Colorado, which led most of the season only to fail in the last couple of weeks, can win it all with a victory over Kansas Saturday.

Kansas State was only one of three nationally ranked teams which suffered upsets Monday night, but the Wildcats' loss may have been the most costly.

Sixth-ranked Bradley was nipped 73-72 by Duquesne, but it didn't affect the Braves' tie for the top in the Missouri Valley Conference. They meet Cincinnati in a one-game playoff for the conference title and the NCAA spot. The loser goes to the NIT.

Loyola of Chicago, which just moved into the No. 10 spot nationally, fell before Xavier of Ohio 96-89. Loyola, however, is an independent and was passed over for the at-large post in the NCAA.

Only Kentucky, No. 4, of the nationally-ranked teams in action Monday night, came through on schedule. The Wildcats, already headed for the NCAA, rolled over Tulane 97-72 and increased their record to 21-2 for the season.

In some of the other major games, Syracuse won its second straight—after losing a record of 27 in a row—76-67 over Connecticut; Jimmy Rayl popped in 37 points and moved into a tie for the Big Ten scoring leadership with Purdue's Terry Dischinger in the Hoosiers' 104-92 triumph over Illinois; Daryl Petsch hit the winning field goal with two seconds left in overtime for Nebraska's 71-69 victory over Oklahoma; Minnesota walloped Michigan 102-80; and Kansas upset Iowa State 76-71.

McNutt Five, Dawson's In Cage Finals

McNutt's Insurance and Dawson's advanced to the finals of the Little Potters Sixth Grade tournament Monday. They will meet for the tourney championship on March 14 at Memorial Auditorium.

The McNutt five scored a 15-10 victory over Hune Co. while Dawson's eliminated First National Bank 30-11.

NCAA Ready To Introduce New Program

CHICAGO (AP) — Armed with the support of athletic organizations at all levels, the National Collegiate Athletic Association was prepared today to complete its federation program.

With the exception of the Amateur Athletic Union, representatives from national organizations, college athletic conferences and high schools throughout the nation backed the NCAA federation plan Monday.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said a time limit would be set for all organizations to join the federation program. This would, of course, include the AAU and the armed forces if they wished to join.

The AAU—officially recognized certifying body for international competition by U.S. athletes—is against the NCAA federation program.

The AAU last month offered the NCAA equal representation on its international sub-committees, but the NCAA rejected the offer and countered with the federation program.

The NCAA hopes — through a show of organizational power — to supercede the AAU as certifying body for international competition.

At the present meetings, the NCAA is trying to form federations for gymnastics and track and field. A federation in basketball already has drawn up a constitution.

Brilliant District Tourney Postponed

The snowstorm has forced postponement of tonight's Eastern Ohio District A basketball tournament at Brilliant, it was announced this morning by James C. Wilson, tournament director. The tournament will open Wednesday night at 8 with Stanton Local ((22-0) of Irondale meeting Dennison (16-4) of Tuscarawas County at Brilliant High School.

Conotton Valley (18-4) and Hiland (21-2) will clash Thursday night at 8. The two winners will advance to the championship game Saturday night at 7:30 at the Diocesan Community Arena in Steubenville, with a trip to the Regional tournament at stake.

Once-Beaten Ohio State Still Holds No. 1 Spot

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

However, for the first time in 12 weeks the Bucks were not unanimous choice for No. 1. They received 40 first-place votes from the panel of experts, Mississippi State picked up three and Cincinnati got the other two.

Wisconsin's hustling Badgers pinned the surprising setback on Ohio State, spoiling the Bucks' chances for a perfect season with an 86-67 victory at Madison. The loss was Ohio State's first in 23 starts this season and ended its Big Ten conference winning streak at 27 games.

The Buckeyes who have one game remaining — against Indiana Saturday—piled up 444 points on a basis of 10 for a first, nine for a second and so on. They were given four seconds and one third.

Cincinnati's Bearcats, who closed out their regular season with a 61-58 decision over Xavier (Ohio) for a 24-2 record, gained 32 votes for second and stayed in the runnerup spot with 392 points. Kansas State in third, Kentucky in fourth, Mississippi State in fifth and Bradley in sixth also kept the spots they held last week.

A.E. England of Hollywood, a university trustee, said Monday that dinners are planned in New York; Philadelphia; Boston; Washington; New Haven, Conn.; Chicago; Seattle; Stockton; San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

Foss Appears In ABL Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)—Joe Foss, American Football League commissioner, testified Monday he sent a letter to each of the National Football League team presidents asking that they not do anything to destroy the new league.

The letter was dated Jan. 6, 1960—a few days after Foss formally took office as commissioner of the new league.

The letter appealed to NFL executives not to engage in practices aimed at "destroying" the new league, but to cooperate with the fledging circuit.

Foss was the first witness to take the stand at the start of the second week of trial in the AFL's $10 million antitrust suit against the NFL.

He acknowledged the AFL had captured some of the top draft choices of the NFL, although it was testified earlier that the AFL was suffering because of player competition with the older league.

His testimony prompted Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen to ask for a compilation of the NFL draft choices. Thomsen is hearing the case without a jury in U.S. District Court.

St. Louis finished third in 1961 with 44.7.

Lary handled all but four punts for the Lions in 1961, and was followed by Pittsburgh's Bobby Joe Green, 47.0 and Tommy Davis of San Francisco with 45.4.

Reds' Skipper To Give Cook Shot At Position

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the National League champion Cincinnati Reds is faced with his first on-the-field crisis today when he must try to find a replacement for slugging third baseman Gene Freese.

The 25-year old infielder already has flunked two tests with the Reds, but may just have been a slow starter. He was voted the American Association's Most Valuable Player last year, playing for Indianapolis, where he batted .311 and slammed 32 home runs.

Cook's home run potential will be needed to compensate for the loss of the 28-year-old Freese. Doctors say he will miss the first two months of the season. Freese had his finest major league season in helping the Reds to the pennant. He hit .277, slammed 26 homers and drove in 87 runs after being acquired from the Chicago White Sox.

Pitchers Jack Sanford and Pete Ramos felt interested enough about the coming season to sign their contracts Monday. Sanford signed at San Francisco's Phoenix, Ariz., camp for a reported $25,000, a token raise for his 13-9 record, and Ramos, of Washington ended his holdout by taking a slight cut from the $20,000 he got a year ago. Ramos had an 11-20 American League record and led in gopher balls with 39.

Pitcher Bob Belinsky of the Los Angeles Angels also signed for the major league minimum of $6,000 which will be boosted to $7,000 if he still is with the team 30 days after the season begins. He had protested that he was being treated unfairly by the Angels.

Woodling Is Disturbed On Piersall's Requests

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jimmy Piersall, baseball's stormy petrel, said today he was stunned and hurt by charges of his Washington teammate, Gene Woodling, that he was getting preferential treatment.

Woodling, the Senators' player representative, charged Monday that Piersall, the club's highest paid player, got a room to himself and demanded special eating money and bed boards.

"There's nothing personal in this," Woodling continued. "I'm all for him. I hope he hits .350. I want to help him and I'll bend over backwards to do it. But when it comes to disrupting harmony, I've got to do something about it."

Piersall said he had never asked for any special favors and he was at a loss to understand why Woodling had made the charges.

"I have always liked and admired Gene very much," Piersall said. "I don't know why he is teeing off on me."

Piersall said he came to camp determined not to create any controversies.

"I promised my wife, Mary, before I left that I would watch what I say. I was determined to be just another guy.

"When I was in Cleveland, they (the management) sent me to a psychiatrist. The psychiatrist recommended that I room alone. I can't stand smoke. I'm an early riser and have other habits which might upset a roommate.

"As for the bed boards, sure I asked for them. I have a bad back. What's wrong with that? Everybody with a bad back gets bed boards.

"It's true I didn't want to eat in the hotel restaurant, but it wasn't because I wanted to be exclusive. I didn't like the food."

Piersall said he had made a deal with himself for no more tantrums, no temperamental outbursts, no show-boating, no arguments with umpires.

Stunts or no, Piersall figures to be one of the most colorful players in the history of the Senators. The brilliant defensive outfielder, who batted .322 for Cleveland last year, was acquired in a winter trade that sent pitcher Dick Donovan, two other players and cash to the Indians.

Pop Ivy Is Named Head Coach Of Houston Club

HOUSTON (AP)—Frank (Pop) Ivy says the Houston Oilers might have a new look in 1962.

When K.S. (Bud) Adams, Oiler owner, brought Ivy to Houston he completed what amounts to a coach-for-coach swap with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

"In looking over the statistics," Ivy said today, "I noticed that although Houston ran about the same number of passing and running plays, it gained almost twice as much passing. I'd like to get a little better balance."

Ivy's tenure and salary were not announced.

Hutchinson On Spot As Freese Breaks Ankle In Slide

TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1962 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 12

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY

3-Time Champion . . .

Take any year out of the last 10, look at the state wrestling results and you'll find the name of Hoppel listed somewhere in the top four spots.

When Carl Hoppel wrapped up his third state wrestling title Saturday night at St. John's arena in Columbus, it marked the end of a reign in Ohio mat circles by one family which we doubt has been equaled anywhere in the United States.

For a decade now the Hoppels have been defeating about everyone they ran into on the wrestling mats.

It all started in 1953 when Herm Hoppel served as the lead-off man in the wrestling dynasty.

Herm wrestled for East Liverpool High School under Lou Venditti before Beaver Local High existed. He finished second his senior year in 1953 and the string was started.

In 1954 along came Darryl, who won the title in 1954. Probably 1955 will go down as the most memorable year for the Hoppels, when both Jim and Darryl captured state titles for East Liverpool.

Jim dropped to a third-place finish in 1956, while another brother, Dave, who was a sophomore then, took second. While Dave never won a state title, he finished second again in 1957 and fourth in 1958.

After that, it was all Carl, who became the new champion of the family. In 1959, when the District wrestling tournament was held at East Liverpool, Carl, who lost only two matches in 99 starts during the high school career, was defeated in the finals by Frank Cunningham of Bridgeport.

Since two wrestlers qualified in each division, Hoppel was afforded a chance to go to the state meet and also to avenge the loss to Cunningham. He did, in the state finals. Carl pinned Cunningham and became the first freshman ever to win a state mat championship.

Although he slipped to third the following year, he bounced back to win two consecutive titles. We offer our congratulations to Carl, a three-time champion.

While Carl is the last of the immediate family of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hoppel of the Calcutta-Smith's Ferry Rd., he has a cousin, Joe Hoppel, who is wrestling on an eighth-grade team.

Jack O'Rourke, who has been Carl's coach during his high school career, calls his star "the best I have ever seen; I sure hate to lose him."

A Little Bad Luck . . .

A LITTLE bad luck hit one of two former East Liverpool wrestlers as they were shooting for championships in the Mid-American conference tournament last weekend at Toledo University.

Bill Pierson, Kent State's 138-pounder, finished runnerup in his class after being pinned in the finals. He was forced to go all out in a semi-final match and was pretty well spent when the championship bout rolled around.

Don Seibert, who wrestles for Ohio University, was hit by sickness, but took to the mat any way, only to lose a 3-2 decision, his first defeat in conference competition.

Seibert, who started the season as a 138-pound wrestler, was asked by his coach to drop to 127 for the Mid - American tourney. After losing 3-2, he was taken to a Toledo hospital.

Attempting to lose weight all last week to make the 127-pound weight, Seibert was dehydrated and vomitted for over a 12-hour period Friday and Saturday.

It was recommended that he refrain from further competition this year, which means he will miss the 4-I championships at Cleveland next where he had been invited on the basis of his undefeated record in the Mid-American conference.

Also, if he had been permitted to wrestle his 138 weight, Seibert had pinned the wrestler who won the division earlier in the season.

A victory in the Mid-American tourney would have qualified him for the NCAA championships later this month at the University of Oklahoma.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

WHILE Don Spires of Stanton Local was tossing in 27 points to lead his team past Lakeland and into the District tournament, Kermit Blosser, who is on the coaching staff at Ohio University, was seated in the stands.

Blosser was quite impressed with Spires and the Athens school has had its eye on the 6-foot-7 pivot man for sometime. We understand Spires would like to enroll there.

Ted Thorne, Salem's pivot star, is reported to be headed for Ohio U., too.

NCAA Ready To Introduce New Program

CHICAGO (AP) — Armed with the support of athletic organizations at all levels, the National Collegiate Athletic Association was prepared today to complete its federation program.

With the exception of the Amateur Athletic Union, representatives from national organizations, college athletic conferences and high schools throughout the nation backed the NCAA federation plan Monday.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said a time limit would be set for all organizations to join the federation program. This would, of course, include the AAU and the armed forces if they wished to join.

The AAU—officially recognized certifying body for international competition by U.S. athletes—is against the NCAA federation program.

The AAU last month offered the NCAA equal representation on its international sub-committees, but the NCAA rejected the offer and countered with the federation program.

The NCAA hopes — through a show of organizational power — to supercede the AAU as certifying body for international competition.

At the present meetings, the NCAA is trying to form federations for gymnastics and track and field. A federation in basketball already has drawn up a constitution.

Once-Beaten Ohio State Still Holds No. 1 Spot

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State suffered the most stunning upset of the college basketball season Saturday but the Buckeyes still hold a firm grip on the top ranking in this week's Associated Press poll.

However, for the first time in 12 weeks the Bucks were not unanimous choice for No. 1. They received 40 first-place votes from the panel of experts, Mississippi State picked up three and Cincinnati got the other two.

Wisconsin's hustling Badgers pinned the surprising setback on Ohio State, spoiling the Bucks' chances for a perfect season with an 86-67 victory at Madison. The loss was Ohio State's first in 23 starts this season and ended its Big Ten conference winning streak at 27 games.

The Buckeyes who have one game remaining — against Indiana Saturday—piled up 444 points on a basis of 10 for a first, nine for a second and so on. They were given four seconds and one third.

Cincinnati's Bearcats, who closed out their regular season with a 61-58 decision over Xavier (Ohio) for a 24-2 record, gained 32 votes for second and stayed in the runnerup spot with 392 points. Kansas State in third, Kentucky in fourth, Mississippi State in fifth and Bradley in sixth also kept the spots they held last week.

Utah's Skyline champions climbed three places to seventh, Bowling Green and Duke each slipped one notch, and Loyola of Chicago took over tenth from Colorado.

1.	Ohio State (40)	444
2.	Cincinnati (2)	392
3.	Kansas State	323
4.	Kentucky	285

Colorado Pulls Upset, Looks For NCAA Bid

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

In-and-out Colorado is in again —in solid control of the Big Eight basketball chase, that is.

The Buffaloes, getting a big assist from Oklahoma State, have regained the conference lead and are now only one step away from the NCAA tourney, a berth they apparently had lost for good in a defeat by potent Kansas State last week.

But Oklahoma State found the third-ranking Wildcats looking the other way Monday night and registered a 78-68 upset, the first time the Cowboys had beaten Kansas State in 19 games.

It dropped Kansas State into second place in the conference with an 11-2 mark. Colorado, which took Missouri 73-64, is now 12-1. Each has one game left. Kansas State must beat Nebraska Wednesday to retain a chance for a tie while Colorado, which led most of the season only to fail in the last couple of weeks, can win it all with a victory over Kansas Saturday.

Kansas State was only one of three nationally ranked teams which suffered upsets Monday night, but the Wildcats' loss may have been the most costly.

Sixth-ranked Bradley was nipped 73-72 by Duquesne, but it didn't affect the Braves' tie for the top in the Missouri Valley Conference. They meet Cincinnati in a one-game playoff for the conference title and the NCAA spot. The loser goes to the NIT.

Loyola of Chicago, which just moved into the No. 10 spot nationally, fell before Xavier of Ohio 96-89. Loyola, however, is an independent and was passed over for the at-large post in the NCAA.

Only Kentucky, No. 4, of the nationally-ranked teams in action Monday night, came through on schedule. The Wildcats, already headed for the NCAA, rolled over Tulane 97-72 and increased their record to 21-2 for the season.

In some of the other major games, Syracuse won its second straight—after losing a record of 27 in a row—76-67 over Connecticut; Jimmy Rayl popped in 37 points and moved into a tie for the Big Ten scoring leadership with Purdue's Terry Dischinger over Illinois; Daryl Petsch hit the winning field goal with two seconds left in overtime for Nebraska's 71-69 victory over Oklahoma; Minnesota walloped Michigan 102-80; and Kansas upset Iowa State 76-71.

McNutt Five, Dawson's In Cage Finals

McNutt's Insurance and Dawson's advanced to the finals of the Little Potters Sixth Grade tournament Monday. They will meet for the tourney championship on March 14 at Memorial Auditorium.

The McNutt five scored a 15-10 victory over Hune Co. while Dawson's eliminated First National Bank 30-11.

Cunningham paced First National with six.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There may be as many as 10 birthday parties for Amos Alonzo Stagg when the Grand Old Man of football turns 100 on Aug. 16.

Dinners will be held from coast to coast that night as part of a campaign to raise funds for a field house and other athletic facilities at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif. Stagg coached there many years (when it was known as College of the Pacific) and the field house will be named for him.

A.E. England of Hollywood, a university trustee, said Monday that dinners are planned in New York; Philadelphia; Boston; Washington; New Haven, Conn.; Chicago; Seattle; Stockton; San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

Foss Appears In ABL Trial

BALTIMORE (AP)—Joe Foss, American Football League commissioner, testified Monday he sent a letter to each of the National Football League team presidents asking that they not do anything to destroy the new league.

The letter was dated Jan. 6, 1960—a few days after Foss formally took office as commissioner of the new league.

The letter appealed to NFL executives not to engage in practices aimed at "destroying" the new league, but to cooperate with the fledging circuit.

Foss was the first witness to take the stand at the start of the second week of trial in the AFL's $10 million antitrust suit against the NFL.

He acknowledged the AFL had captured some of the top draft choices of the NFL, although it was testified earlier that the AFL was suffering because of player competition with the older league.

His testimony prompted Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen to ask for a compilation of the NFL draft choices. Thomsen is hearing the case without a jury in U.S. District Court.

Fight Results

Lions And Lary Capture 2 NFL Punting Titles

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Lions and Yale Lary wrapped up the two major punting titles in the National Football League during the 1961 season, according to official league statistics released today.

The Lions won the team title with a 47.6 mark and Lary was the individual leader with 48.4. The Lions succeeded the St. Louis Cardinals which had 44.9 for the 1960 season, led by Jerry Norton's 45.6 mark.

St. Louis finished third in 1961 with 44.7.

Lary handled all but four punts for the Lions in 1961, and was followed by Pittsburgh's Bobby Joe Green, 47.0 and Tommy Davis of San Francisco with 45.4.

Pro Offers Attractive, But Lucas Feels Further Education Necessary

By CHUCK SUCH
Brush-Moore Special Writer

Adults generally are more reserved in their hero worshiping. But many have placed the Ohio State great on a pedestal. And that number is growing every day—mainly because more and more people are getting to know him better.

TO KNOW LUCAS is to like him.

His intelligence, mannerisms, modesty and an unbelievably relaxed disposition all complement his great athletic talents to the degree that it makes him one of the most unusual young athletes of our time.

LUCAS WAS ASKED why he is turning down a lucrative offer to play professional basketball.

"There comes a time when a person has to decide what he wants in life," Lucas replied, "I don't want basketball to be my life."

But how can you turn down more money than most people even dream of making in a lifetime? Isn't money important to you?

"Money is very important," Luke replied. "But I believe I can make enough money — maybe not right away — but eventually. I think I can do well enough to get the things I want in life. I don't think money is everything."

WHAT TYPE of future does he have planned?

"Well, I haven't exactly made up my mind for certain. I'd like very much to enter law school after graduation. I'm considering that seriously.

"I'm majoring in marketing. If I don't enter law school, I still plan to continue my education. I want to get a master's degree."

LUCAS WAS ASKED if he had offers for a job.

"Yes, I've had a number of business and professional people talk to me but I'm not ready to take a job. As I said, I want to get more education first," he stated.

"I have two quarters to complete before I get my degree. My wife has a full year ahead of her. I want her to finish school, too. I want her to have her degree. She's going to enroll again in the spring quarter."

Lucas was married to Treva Geib, a Columbus girl, in September 1960. They met in an Ohio State classroom.

Treva made a trip to the West Coast and due to automobile trouble, returned too late to enroll for the winter quarter. So, she took a job in a Columbus bank until time for the spring school term.

When she returns to school, Jerry will drop out to earn some money. He has been flooded by requests to speak. He has accepted more than 30 speaking engagements within Ohio, for which he will be paid.

Lucas has an amazing scholastic average of better than 3.5 out of a 4.0 in classroom studies. Last quarter his grades were straight A's. And his subjects were difficult—marketing, philosophy, business organization and sociology.

His fantastic record in the classroom, while devoting considerable time to sports, has been the biggest thing to happen to athletics since the games were invented.

Some educators have hammered at athletics in the school program on all levels as evil and a detriment to education.

LUCAS and the entire Ohio State basketball team has disproved that claim. In fact, the Buckeyes went on to prove that classroom work and athletics are so related that they have immeasurable assets as aids to each other.

The Ohio State team finished high above the average male student grade last quarter. The starting five and customary first replacement averaged 3.1 out of a possible 4.0.

The Cincinnati Royals of the professional basketball ranks have the draft right to Lucas. Pepper Wilson, general manager of the Royals, has been quoted as saying he would offer Lucas so much money that he just couldn't turn down the offer.

UNDOUBTEDLY, it would make pro football and baseball bonuses look like pocket change. Lucas already is saying no.

"I think the Royals may have taken the wrong approach," a spokesman opined. "Lucas can't be bought. It can't be proved, but this may have been a factor in Luke's decision already. Luke would react negatively to anyone who thought he could buy his services. He has high principles."

Lucas has been described as a complete basketball player. He has mastered every phase of the game. Many feel he could average 40 points a game easily if he wasn't dedicated to being a team player.

At Ohio State, he may even become a legend some day.

Cleveland Team Takes Over Lead In Bowling Meet

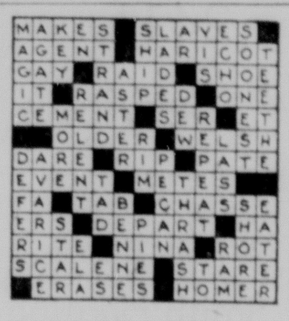

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Priority Mfg. Corp. team of Cleveland fell eight pins short of the classic division record in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Monday night, but its six-game score of 5,975 was enough to lead the professional category.

The Ohioans finished their two-day stint with a 985-942-1,057 — 2,984 series. Ernie Kovachs led the assault with a big 698 series. The team shot 2,991 Sunday night in the opening block. Priority went far ahead of the previous leaders, Bill Dreiling Motors of Denver, which had totaled 5,885 Feb. 24.

Priority is likely to get some fierce competition tonight as Continental Bowl moves into its second block. This Detroit team, composed of members of the Thunderbirds of the National Bowling League, turned out a 3,049 series the first time out Monday night. Tom Harnisch shot 643, Bill Golembiewski had 624 and Capt. Ed Lubanski contributed 604.

Chiefs Strive Tonight For Sixth Straight

By The Associated Press

The resurgent Hawaii Chiefs go after their sixth straight American Basketball League victory tonight and second place in the Western Division at the expense of the slumping San Francisco Saints.

The Chiefs whipped the Saints 109-99 in Honolulu Monday night to move into a second place tie with San Francisco. Four of the five consecutive triumphs have been over the Saints with the two teams winding up the five-game series at Pearl Harbor tonight.

In other games, the Chicago Majors turned back the New York Tapers 102-98 and the Cleveland Pipers downed the Kansas City Steers 104-92.

Joe Campbell Sixth In Golf Money Race

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Cigar-chewing Joe Campbell, a former basketball star at Purdue who knows his way around a golf course, has crashed the list of top money winners among the touring professionals.

Campbell won $2,800 last weekend with his victory in the Baton Rouge Open to give him a total of $7,951 in prize money for 1962—good enough for sixth place among the top 10.

Gene Littler still holds down first place this week with $15,361 and Phil Rodgers is second with $15,033, figures released by Professional Golf Association headquarters show.

Louis Says Patterson Should Fight More

Jonathan Eber, 21, of Deerfield, Mass., will captain Columbia's 1962 cross-country team. His hobbies are automotives, swimming and hunting.

Pro Offers Attractive, But Lucas Feels Further Education Necessary

By CHUCK SUCH
Brush-Moore Special Writer

They respect him for his tremendous athletic talent. Countless thousands of youngsters idolize him.

Adults generally are more reserved in their hero worshiping. But many have placed the Ohio State great on a pedestal. And that number is growing every day—mainly because more and more people are getting to know him better.

TO KNOW LUCAS is to like him.

His intelligence, mannerisms, modesty and an unbelievably relaxed disposition all complement his great athletic talents to the degree that it makes him one of the most unusual young athletes of our time.

LUCAS WAS ASKED why he is turning down a lucrative offer to play professional basketball.

"There comes a time when a person has to decide what he wants in life," Lucas replied, "I don't want basketball to be my life."

But how can you turn down more money than most people even dream of making in a lifetime? Isn't money important to you?

"Money is very important," Luke replied. "But I believe I can make enough money — maybe not right away — but eventually. I think I can do well enough to get the things I want in life. I don't think money is everything."

WHAT TYPE of future does he have planned?

"Well, I haven't exactly made up my mind for certain. I'd like very much to enter law school after graduation. I'm considering that seriously.

"I'm majoring in marketing. If I don't enter law school, I still plan to continue my education. I want to get a master's degree."

LUCAS WAS ASKED if he had offers for a job.

"Yes, I've had a number of business and professional people talk to me but I'm not ready to take a job. As I said, I want to get more education first," he stated.

"I have two quarters to complete before I get my degree. My wife has a full year ahead of her. I want her to finish school, too. I want her to have her degree. She's going to enroll again in the spring quarter."

Lucas was married to Treva Geib, a Columbus girl, in September 1960. They met in an Ohio State classroom.

Treva made a trip to the West Coast and due to automobile trouble, returned too late to enroll for the winter quarter. So, she took a job in a Columbus bank until time for the spring school term.

When she returns to school, Jerry will drop out to earn some money. He has been flooded by requests to speak. He has accepted more than 30 speaking engagements within Ohio, for which he will be paid.

Lucas has an amazing scholastic average of better than 3.5 out of a 4.0 in classroom studies. Last quarter his grades were straight A's. And his subjects were difficult—marketing, philosophy, business organization and sociology.

His fantastic record in the classroom, while devoting considerable time to sports, has been the biggest thing to happen to athletics since the games were invented.

Some educators have hammered at athletics in the school program on all levels as evil and a detriment to education.

LUCAS and the entire Ohio State basketball team has disproved that claim. In fact, the Buckeyes went on to prove that classroom work and athletics are so related that they have immeasurable assets as aids to each other.

The Ohio State team finished high above the average male student grade last quarter. The starting five and customary first replacement averaged 3.1 out of a possible 4.0.

The Cincinnati Royals of the professional basketball ranks have the draft right to Lucas. Pepper Wilson, general manager of the Royals, has been quoted as saying he would offer Lucas so much money that he just couldn't turn down the offer.

UNDOUBTEDLY, it would make pro football and baseball bonuses look like pocket change. Lucas already is saying no.

"I think the Royals may have taken the wrong approach," a spokesman opined. "Lucas can't be bought. It can't be proved, but this may have been a factor in Luke's decision already. Luke would react negatively to anyone who thought he could buy his services. He has high principles."

Lucas has been described as a complete basketball player. He has mastered every phase of the game. Many feel he could average 40 points a game easily if he wasn't dedicated to being a team player.

He's a superbly gifted young man, and a complete young man in every sense of the word.

At Ohio State, he may even become a legend some day.

Cleveland Team Takes Over Lead In Bowling Meet

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Priority Mfg. Corp. team of Cleveland fell eight pins short of the classic division record in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Monday night, but its six-game score of 5,975 was enough to lead the professional category.

The Ohioans finished their two-day stint with a 985-942-1,057 — 2,984 series. Ernie Kovachs led the assault with a big 698 series. The team shot 2,991 Sunday night in the opening block. Priority went far ahead of the previous leaders, Bill Dreiling Motors of Denver, which had totaled 5,885 Feb. 24.

Priority is likely to get some fierce competition tonight as Continental Bowl moves into its second block. This Detroit team, composed of members of the Thunderbirds of the National Bowling League, turned out a 3,049 series the first time out Monday night. Tom Harnisch shot 643, Bill Golembiewski had 624 and Capt. Ed Lubanski contributed 604.

Chiefs Strive Tonight For Sixth Straight

By The Associated Press

The resurgent Hawaii Chiefs go after their sixth straight American Basketball League victory tonight and second place in the Western Division at the expense of the slumping San Francisco Saints.

The Chiefs whipped the Saints 109-99 in Honolulu Monday night to move into a second place tie with San Francisco. Four of the five consecutive triumphs have been over the Saints with the two teams winding up the five-game series at Pearl Harbor tonight.

In other games, the Chicago Majors turned back the New York Tapers 102-98 and the Cleveland Pipers downed the Kansas City Steers 104-92.

Joe Campbell Sixth In Golf Money Race

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Cigar-chewing Joe Campbell, a former basketball star at Purdue who knows his way around a golf course, has crashed the list of top money winners among the touring professionals.

Campbell won $2,800 last weekend with his victory in the Baton Rouge Open to give him a total of $7,951 in prize money for 1962—good enough for sixth place among the top 10.

Louis Says Patterson Should Fight More

"An active heavyweight champion stimulates boxing," said Louis. "It falls with an inactive one.

"He and boxing could benefit by a fight a month."

Jonathan Eber, 21, of Deerfield, Mass., will captain Columbia's 1962 cross-country team. His hobbies are automotives, swimming and hunting.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our dear husband, son and son-in-law, Arthur (Art) Duane Dozier, who was killed 1 year ago today, March 6, 1961. We will never forget that evening. Sometime it seems like yesterday and other times it seems so long, since you left us. We have wished we could wake up and find it just a dream. OFF THE RECORD

"Frankly, I don't know where I'd be without the government—first, the army; then a job in the mint, and now this."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a better and more secure job of putting up shelves or hanging heavy pictures on a plastered wall?

A. It's always a good idea to locate the studs, so that you can drive your nails into them for a more secure anchor. You can find these studs easily by aid of a compass, which will be attracted by the nails in the studs, thus showing the location of the latter.

Q. How can I keep blankets soft and fluffy?

A. Both blankets and flannels will keep that soft, new feeling if a teaspoon of glycerin is added to each pint of rinsing water when laundering.

Q. How can I remove petroleum jelly stains from fabrics?

A. By rubbing with kerosene. If the stains are very old, soak in kerosene, then rub and wash with soapsuds.

Q. How can I make a "more interesting dish" out of stewed prunes?

A. Simmer them in the syrup drained from canned fruit (peach syrup is especially good), together with a teaspoon of lemon juice, and a bit of grated rind. Cooked this way, prunes have a much more appealing flavor and require no sugar.

Q. How can I make the removal of a tiny, almost imperceptible splinter easier?

A. Touch the spot with some iodine. The wooden splinter will absorb the iodine and turn dark, which not only makes it easier to see and remove, but also cleanses and disinfects the wound.

Q. How can I prevent the birds from eating large quantities of my grass seed after I have sowed it?

A. The birds won't feast on your grass seed if you color it with bluing before spreading it. Soak the seeds in a solution of bluing and water until well colored, then scatter it. The birds will refuse to touch it, and the coloring won't affect the fertility of your seed.

Junior Editors Quiz on FISH

QUESTION: I have heard that fish can talk. Is this a true statement?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Yet it is. For many years men believed that fish could not communicate with each other because fish sounds are usually so soft that they are difficult to hear. Also, it is hard to hear on the seashore what is going on under the water. It is quite likely that fish cannot hear people whispering together on the shore, either. However, many people recently have been spending a great deal of time recording fish sounds. They have found that fish grunt, toot, chirp, click, rattle, and hum. We still do not know what each grunt means, or what special significance the toot has in the fish's vocabulary, but we know that these sounds do exist in the fish world. We also know that a toot from one fish means something very definite and precise to another fish.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: It is almost impossible for you to hear tropical fish, such as guppies, communicating with each other in a small tank. However, if you go to an aquarium you can probably hear some of the sounds of the large fish. If there are porpoises somewhere nearby, listen for their special sounds.

Nationwide Puts Life Insurance Within the Reach of Every Family

Quantity Discounts, Bigger Dividends Help Lower Costs

Among Nationwide's most popular features are (a) "quantity discounts," which progressively lower premiums on each $1,000 of life insurance over $4,000, and (b) increased dividends.

In addition to early cash and loan values, young family men particularly like our Guaranteed Insurability Option. This assures the right to buy additional insurance later on, without medical examination, regardless of health.

Also available as optional extras are Double Indemnity, which doubles a policy's face amount in the event of accidental death, and Disability Waiver of Premium, which cancels premiums falling due after a policyholder has been disabled by accident or illness for six months.

With every Nationwide policy you have a broad selection of settlement options. Many of these allow benefits or cash values to be paid in a choice of annuity-type installments.

The above features, and many more, guarantee you extra value through flexibility that lets your life insurance keep up-to-date with your changing needs and plans.

Your Nationwide agent, a neighbor in your community, is always at your service. He'll review your insurance program with you regularly to make sure its provisions always match your requirements.

Every family now can afford enough life insurance—thanks to Nationwide. Even fathers who think they're "insurance poor" will benefit from a talk with a Nationwide agent. His skill and experience, his interest in serving you best, and his complete range of modern coverages, will mean more protection and added savings for you.

Progressive Organization Offers Complete New Choice Of Budget-Priced Policies

In keeping with its principle of providing the finest protection at the lowest possible cost, Nationwide Insurance recently streamlined its entire life insurance portfolio. The best features of standard policies have been retained, the range and scope of coverages broadened, new policies developed and set in a rate structure second to none within the insurance industry.

Greater Values and Savings

Result? Budget-conscious families can now buy more of the protection today's cost-of-living demands. Young fathers can now afford the insurance they need during the family's growing years.

Today, through Nationwide, you can choose a plan which matches your exact requirements and your resources. Whether it's maximum coverage at lowest cost, systematic savings at a guaranteed rate of interest, or a realistic combination of protection and savings, your Nationwide agent has a plan for you. Every family can now have the vital protection they need while they save for retirement.

Expert Assistance Available

Nationwide also offers you—at no charge or obligation—the professional services of highly trained, experienced insurance agents. Since your local Nationwide agent offers a complete range of insurance products, he can recommend the life insurance policy which best fits your total protection picture. He can provide you with a coordinated, all-around protection program, with no dangerous gaps or costly overlaps, no needless waste or extras...all at minimum cost!

Outstanding Values In Business Life Insurance

More and more executives, too, are selecting Nationwide plans for their companies' business life insurance coverage—including key man, sole proprietorship, partnership, and close corporation insurance. Individual-policy pension trust plans are also offered.

Especially advantageous to businessmen is Nationwide's Executive Equity Plan, which features rapidly accumulating cash values resulting in minimum net cost to the purchaser.

A complete range of flexible, low-cost plans is also offered on a group basis, customarily combined with group health coverage in a complete employee benefit program, often partnered with a funded retirement or pension program. Featured among Nationwide's Group coverages are those especially designed for smaller organizations. Available in most states are: MINI-GROUP, a top-benefit plan for firms having 10-49 employees, and EFP (EMPLOYEE FAMILY PLAN), a "big company" employee-and-dependents program for groups as small as three.

Also noteworthy is our small-company Retirement Security Plan (RSP), which can provide stockholder-employees with up to $96,000 cash—or $670 per month—at retirement, with all rates and benefits guaranteed for life.

All Nationwide agents are authorized to offer business life insurance protection, and all are backed by experienced Nationwide technical specialists, both at the Home Office and in the field.

Nationwide Life Insurance Plans Are Designed to Meet Every Need

Whatever your age, earnings and family circumstances, your Nationwide agent will recommend the plan—or combination of plans—that will do the best job for you. Here are just a few of the new Nationwide coverages offered:

For Young Families

For young fathers with limited budgets there's the MODIFIED 3 TO 10 PLAN. Especially designed for the "getting started" years, it offers sharply reduced premiums during the plan's first 10 years. Later, regular premiums are offset by higher dividends and accumulated cash values.

Also for young family men is Nationwide's FAMILY INCOME PLAN, which provides maximum protection during children's dependent years. Then, after the children are grown, your basic protection continues, but at a lower premium.

Many families, too, prefer the savings offered by Nationwide's all-in-one FAMILY POLICY, which insures all the family in a single plan. Dad has the greatest protection, while Mom and the youngsters are insured for smaller amounts.

For New Homeowners

For the homeowner, there's the low-premium MORTGAGE PROTECTION plan. Its face amount decreases gradually year-by-year, along with your mortgage—but there's always enough insurance to cover your unpaid balance.

Your Nationwide man is also equipped with a full line of streamlined ORDINARY (or WHOLE) LIFE and ENDOWMENT plans, which provide permanent protection plus cash values you may use at retirement. He also offers a choice of low cost TERM (or TEMPORARY) insurance plans, which may be converted later to a permanent plan without medical examination.

Full details on all Nationwide plans are available through your local Nationwide agent. He has only one purpose: to provide you with the best protection at the lowest possible cost.

Your Nationwide Agent

Your neighborhood Nationwide representative is fully licensed under the insurance laws of your state. This means that his qualifications to serve you have been thoroughly examined and approved. In addition, his knowledge of life insurance and how it may best work for you is continually expanded through systematic training and refresher courses by Nationwide. Thus, you'll always find him a sound businessman and a valuable friend—and you may talk with him as you would your family doctor.

Nationwide Widely Known As A Company That's Different

Murray D. Lincoln

Murray D. Lincoln, Nationwide's President, is often asked, "What's so different about Nationwide?" His reply usually begins, "Nothing much...if all you want is a company that collects premiums and has the resources to pay claims.

"But," he hastily adds, "if you're looking for something more—the satisfaction, say, of knowing that your premiums are buying insurance designed to protect real people rather than statistics...or if you think it's a healthy idea for policyholders to have a real voice in their company's operation—then Nationwide is different.

"This organization was started thirty-five years ago by people in search of low-cost insurance. We grew, expanded our coverages, were invited into neighboring states, because our kind of insurance was needed.

"Nationwide continues to build on the fundamental principle that whenever we're confronted with new problems, all of us, working together, can find new and better solutions to these problems."

Nationwide Puts Life Insurance Within the Reach of Every Family

Quantity Discounts, Bigger Dividends Help Lower Costs

Among Nationwide's most popular features are (a) "quantity discounts," which progressively lower premiums on each $1,000 of life insurance over $4,000, and (b) increased dividends.

In addition to early cash and loan values, young family men particularly like our Guaranteed Insurability Option. This assures the right to buy additional insurance later on, without medical examination, regardless of health.

Also available as optional extras are Double Indemnity, which doubles a policy's face amount in the event of accidental death, and Disability Waiver of Premium, which cancels premiums falling due after a policyholder has been disabled by accident or illness for six months.

With every Nationwide policy you have a broad selection of settlement options. Many of these allow benefits or cash values to be paid in a choice of annuity-type installments.

The above features, and many more, guarantee you extra value through flexibility that lets your life insurance keep up-to-date with your changing needs and plans.

Your Nationwide agent, a neighbor in your community, is always at your service. He'll review your insurance program with you regularly to make sure its provisions always match your requirements.

Every family now can afford enough life insurance—thanks to Nationwide. Even fathers who think they're "insurance poor" will benefit from a talk with a Nationwide agent. His skill and experience, his interest in serving you best, and his complete range of modern coverages, will mean more protection and added savings for you.

Greater Values and Savings

Outstanding Values In Business Life Insurance

More and more executives, too, are selecting Nationwide plans for their companies' business life insurance coverage—including key man, sole proprietorship, partnership, and close corporation insurance. Individual-policy pension trust plans are also offered.

Especially advantageous to businessmen is Nationwide's Executive Equity Plan, which features rapidly accumulating cash values resulting in minimum net cost to the purchaser.

A complete range of flexible, low-cost plans is also offered on a group basis, customarily combined with group health coverage in a complete employee benefit program, often partnered with a funded retirement or pension program. Featured among Nationwide's Group coverages are those especially designed for smaller organizations. Available in most states are: MINI-GROUP, a top-benefit plan for firms having 10-49 employees, and EFP (EMPLOYEE FAMILY PLAN), a "big company" employee-and-dependents program for groups as small as three.

Also noteworthy is our small-company Retirement Security Plan (RSP), which can provide stockholder-employees with up to $96,000 cash – or $670 per month—at retirement, with all rates and benefits guaranteed for life.

All Nationwide agents are authorized to offer business life insurance protection, and all are backed by experienced Nationwide technical specialists, both at the Home Office and in the field.

Nationwide Life Insurance Plans Are Designed to Meet Every Need

Whatever your age, earnings and family circumstances, your Nationwide agent will recommend the plan—or combination of plans—that will do the best job for you. Here are just a few of the new Nationwide coverages offered:

For Young Families

For young fathers with limited budgets there's the MODIFIED 3 TO 10 PLAN. Especially designed for the "getting started" years, it offers sharply reduced premiums during the plan's first 10 years. Later, regular premiums are offset by higher dividends and accumulated cash values.

Also for young family men is Nationwide's FAMILY INCOME PLAN, which provides maximum protection during children's dependent years. Then, after the children are grown, your basic protection continues, but at a lower premium.

Many families, too, prefer the savings offered by Nationwide's all-in-one FAMILY POLICY, which insures all the family in a single plan. Dad has the greatest protection, while Mom and the youngsters are insured for smaller amounts.

For New Homeowners

For the homeowner, there's the low-premium MORTGAGE PROTECTION plan. Its face amount decreases gradually year-by-year, along with your mortgage – but there's always enough insurance to cover your unpaid balance.

Your Nationwide man is also equipped with a full line of streamlined ORDINARY (or WHOLE) LIFE and ENDOWMENT plans, which provide permanent protection plus cash values you may use at retirement. He also offers a choice of low cost TERM (or TEMPORARY) insurance plans, which may be converted later to a permanent plan without medical examination.

Full details on all Nationwide plans are available through your local Nationwide agent. He has only one purpose: to provide you with the best protection at the lowest possible cost.

Your Nationwide Agent

Your neighborhood Nationwide representative is fully licensed under the insurance laws of your state. This means that his qualifications to serve you have been thoroughly examined and approved. In addition, his knowledge of life insurance and how it may best work for you is continually expanded through systematic training and refresher courses by Nationwide. Thus, you'll always find him a sound businessman and a valuable friend – and you may talk with him as you would your family doctor.

Nationwide Widely Known As A Company That's Different

Murray D. Lincoln

Murray D. Lincoln, Nationwide's President, is often asked, "What's so different about Nationwide?" His reply usually begins, "Nothing much...if all you want is a company that collects premiums and has the resources to pay claims.

"But," he hastily adds, "if you're looking for something more—the satisfaction, say, of knowing that your premiums are buying insurance designed to protect real people rather than statistics...or if you think it's a healthy idea for policyholders to have a real voice in their company's operation—then Nationwide is different.

"This organization was started thirty-five years ago by people in search of low-cost insurance. We grew, expanded our coverages, were invited into neighboring states, because our kind of insurance was needed.

"Nationwide continues to build on the fundamental principle that whenever we're confronted with new problems, all of us, working together, can find new and better solutions to these problems."
